THE NATION

Some well placed diplomats believe North Vietnam will accept a U.S. proposal for moves toward peace at the Paris talks Wednesday.

Apollo 7 Commander Walter M. Schirra Jr., irked by flight plan changes, tells mission control "I've had it up here... we're not going to accept any new games."

A group of "young Turk" diplomats in the U.S. Foreign Service, calling for radical changes in the handling of foreign policy, proposes major shake-up in the State Department.

THE WORLD

Israel's confidential memorandum on peace in the Middle East says it can come only through Arab-Israeli agreement—not through proposals or assurances from outsiders.

Captured enemy documents talk of another winter-spring offensive across South Vietnam despite rumors of deescalation. U.S. Ambassador Bunker meets again with President Thieu.

SPORTS

The forward pass and the fourth quarter; these double names which have haunted the Dragons all year came back in full force Saturday as Jamestown staged a late rally to top Warren.

Kenya's Kipchoge Keino—that picturesque (and fast) fellow headlines the story on Sunday's Olympic competition with a surprisingly easy 1,500 meter victory.

Baltimore was rolling merrily along, and Cleveland was wallowing in the doldrums; then the two met Sunday and there's joy in Brownstown and consternation in Colt City as Cleveland upended the favored Colts.

Some of Warren's fourth-quarter miseries must be contagious; Eisenhower staged a valiant three quarters against Cassadaga Saturday, but a blocked Knight punt in the final stanza set the stage for a New Yorker win.

College football's top three survived the Saturday conflicts, but the scores weren't what the predictors had guessed they'd be.

Chi Chi Rodriguez staged a blitz from out of the blue and triumphed in a sudden death playoff to earn first place in the Sahara Invitational Golf Tournament Sunday. Dale Dougless isn't smiling much, though—he's the fellow who was on top from the start until Chi Chi charged.

MANY HONOR MANFREY AT TESTIMONIAL DINNER

Many distinguished guests turned out for Eugene R. Manfrey Day in Warren Saturday. All expressed appreciation for being privileged to honor the VFW Department Commander of Pennsylvania and so many others "who like him, have served their country and then returned to serve in civic life in community and state." Pictured from left, are: Rep. Albert W. Johnson, 25th congressional district; "Gene" Manfrey, State Senator

Richard C. Frame and Warren-Forest County Assemblyman William W. Allen. In commenting the honored guest and his rise to high office, Congressman Johnson noted "many are called but few are chosen." ## Jackie Weds Multimillionaire; Grey Skies Bode Good Luck

SCORPIOS ISLAND (AP) — Under drizzling grey skies that by Greek legend boded good luck, Jacqueline Kennedy was married Sunday to Aristotle Onassis.

A Greek Orthodox ceremony united the 39-year-old widow of President John F. Kennedy and the Greek shipping magnate, 62, in a whitewashed chapel called Panayitis—the Little Virgin—on Scorpis, Onassis' private island paradise in the Ionian Sea.

Forty persons, all "family," witnessed the ceremony, a union of fame and beauty and fabulous wealth that stirred lively interest around the world. It was excitingly romantic to some, while others were shocked at Mrs. Kennedy's crossing the lines of nationality, age and faith.

"We are very happy," said Mrs. Kennedy, clad in a pink-beige dress, before the ceremony. Onassis, in a dinner jacket and sporting a big carnation in his lapel, contented himself with smiles.

The guests applauded as the couple hurried to the chapel through the rain. Onassis greeted the bride with a kiss on each cheek and she reciprocated.

Caroline and John Kennedy were at their mother's side at the altar, along with Onassis' children, Alexander and Christina. Behind them was the matron of honor, Mrs. Artemis Garofalidou, Onassis' sister.

Mrs. Kennedy's mother, Mrs. Douglas Auchincloss, went, a small choir chanted Byzantine hymns and the couple, wordless throughout the ceremony, exchanged gold rings. Tears appeared in the bride's eyes.

The ceremony was administered by the Rev. Polykarpus Athanassiou, who was flown to the island for the wedding.

The matron of honor picked up two white wedding crowns, joined by a white ribbon, and gently crossed them over the couple's heads. Then began the Dance of Isalah, a traditional three turns around the altar during which the bride and groom try to stamp on each other's feet to establish which will be the dominant mate.

Just who came out best was not determined. The guests crowded in close, showering the pair with flower petals, then all left the chapel for a champagne reception aboard Onassis' yacht.

The destination of their wedding trip, if any, was not known immediately.

grey clouds and a mild morning drizzle that gave Scorpis' cypress, eucalyptus and orange trees a clean but droopy look. The surrounding sea was choppy.

But the romantic Greeks regarded that as a good sign. They maintain that rain on your wedding day is a good-luck omen that goes back to the Olympian gods.

The ceremony began at 5:10

Turkish Are Shocked By Wedding

Dispatch of The Times, London

ANKARA — The reaction in Turkey, birthplace of the bridegroom, to the Onassis-Jacqueline Kennedy wedding is one of seemingly unanimous shock and horror.

"This is awful, awful," said a Turkish waiter, reflecting widespread intolerance of the decision of the widow of the late American president.

Turkey and Greece have feuded for centuries, over Greeks' independence, over land in Anatolia, over Cyprus and over their respective minorities in the other country.

Onassis is from the large Greek minority in Turkey. He was born in Smyrna (now Izmir) and left there with the large Greek emigration after the 1919-22 Turkish-Greek War.

Jamestown Girl, 15, Is Killed

JAMESTOWN — A 15-year-old Harding ave. girl became Chautauque County's 39th highway fatality of 1968 Sunday afternoon. State Police identified the dead girl as Ann Braemer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Braemer of 206 Harding ave.

Miss Braemer was a passenger in an auto driven by 18-year old Timothy Pickett, 532 Lakeview ave., Jamestown. Pickett was treated at WCA Hospital for minor injuries suffered in the accident, and released.

Trooper D. O. Nordine, Levant State Police Barracks, said the Pickett auto was traveling on the Lawson rd., and making a left turn into the Big Tree rd., when it was struck broadside. The operator of the second car was identified as William Dahl, 52, of North Warren. Dahl was not injured in the accident. Charges, state police said, are pending.

V.C. Reported Ready to Accept U.S. Proposal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Well-placed diplomats said Sunday they believe North Vietnam wants to get a peace settlement under way before the next U.S. administration takes office Jan. 20 and thus will accept the latest reported U.S. proposals on scaling down the Vietnam war.

They said the acceptance probably would come out Wednesday at the preliminary peace negotiations in Paris.

Hanoi's motivation for the move, they theorized, would be that in assessing the U.S. presidential campaign the North Vietnamese concluded that, whatever new administration took office, it would be easier to deal with if some sort of settlement always was in the works.

The diplomats, who declined to be quoted, outlined points of the U.S. proposal, which they said was forwarded to the North Vietnamese by the French in Paris last Monday.

They said the proposal contains a U.S. offer to stop all bombing of the North if North Vietnam will say what it will do then.

They said it also outlines reciprocal gestures that would be welcomed by Washington, including: 1. An agreement to send no more North Vietnamese troops to South Vietnam, 2. Continuation of the current lull in attacks on South Vietnamese towns and cities, and 3. North Vietnamese action toward restoring the demilitarized character of the so-called demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam by ending infiltration across it.

The United States also inquires in the proposals whether North Vietnam will enter into serious negotiations, as it has indicated it would do, once the bombing stopped, the informants said.

They said the United States expressed willingness to let the South Vietnamese National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong, take part in final negotiations, provided North Vietnam will let South Vietnam take part too.

The sources said the U.S. proposal does not call for withdrawal of either American or North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam or the demilitarized zone at this stage. They expect guerrilla warfare to continue in the South even after the bombing stops.

Schirra Lays Down Law To Mission Control

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON (AP) — Apollo 7 commander Walter M. Schirra Jr., annoyed by flight plan changes, laid down the law Sunday to Mission Control: "I've had it up here. We're not going to accept any new games."

Schirra, 45-year-old veteran astronaut in space for his last time, snapped and growled at Mission Control about the food supply and the workload through the 10th day of its 11-day flight.

"I've had it up here today and from now on I'm going to be an on-board flight director for these updated flight plan changes," said Schirra. "We're not going to accept any new games, like doing some crazy testing we never heard of before."

Schirra's subdued explosion came after Mission Control asked him, Air Force Maj. Don F. Elsie and Walter Cunningham to run some on-board computer tests which had not been planned. He also was irritated by what he claims was a change in the profile of a firing of the service propulsion rocket engine.

At a news conference later, flight director Glynn Lunney said the purpose of Apollo 7, the first three-man flight in America's man-to-the-moon program was to check engineering of the Apollo spacecraft.

"We are bound to be performing some tests highly different than planned because of what we've learned," he said.

Newsmen sharply questioned Lunney about the changes and the 31-year-old flight director answered grimly, in marked contrast to his usual witty replies. Twice public affairs officer Paul Haney intervened on needle-pointed questions.

"You've seen Schirra's wit and charm," Haney said once. "Today you saw his temper."

At another point Haney made a comic reference to the astronauts' growing irritability and their inability to shave in weightlessness.

"Show me a man with a beard and I'll show you a protestor," he said. The newsmen roared.

A newsman asked Lunney if Schirra had a good reason for his irritability, and Haney interjected: "He had a reason."

Schirra announced from space that the crew would follow the suggestion of chief astronaut Donald K. Slayton and wear pressure suits during re-entry on Tuesday.

'Young Turk' Diplomats Call For State Department Shake-up

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of "young Turk" diplomats in the U.S. Foreign Service, calling for radical changes in the handling of foreign policy, publicly proposed to the next president Sunday a 17-point program for shaking up the State Department.

Outstanding among the recommendations are a proposal to create a new Cabinet-level post of "foreign secretary" to share the work load of the secretary of state, designation of a permanent undersecretary to run the Department, and action to tighten control by ambassadors over the activities of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) and U.S. military men in foreign countries.

The group also proposed that the new president "resist the temptation to organize his own White House foreign office."

The "young Turks" won control of the 8,000-member American Foreign Service Association, a private organization of diplomats, administrators, staff assistants and others in foreign service work, a little more than a year ago. Their reform movement, which is about two years old, has thus expressed its aims through that influential organization.

Lamon Walker, chairman of the board of the association and a leader of the reformers, said the recommendations drafted by a committee under Ambassador Graham Martin, former envoy to Thailand, were sent a

Hurricane Gladys Heads For the Atlantic Ocean

CAPE HATTERAS, N.C. (AP) — Hurricane Gladys brushed the North Carolina coast with winds gusting to 80 miles per hour Sunday before heading for the open Atlantic where she gained a little strength.

Gladys, which caused little damage in North Carolina, was a threat only to shipping interests as she churned through the seas with top winds of 85 miles per hour.

At noon, the storm was centered near latitude 36.3 north, longitude 73.2 west. This position, about 160 miles northeast of Hatteras, was based on Air Force reconnaissance and coastal radar reports.

Gladys was moving toward the northeast about 25 miles per hour and was expected to turn a little more toward the east-northeast Sunday night with a slight increase in forward speed. The Washington Weather Bureau said little change in intensity was indicated for the next 24 hours.

Only minor damage was reported along the North Carolina Outer Banks after winds from the storm brushed over the sandy, lightly inhabited area.

Water covered the pavements of other roads, but they were passable.

Tides were two to three feet above normal. The storm brought heavy rains to eastern North Carolina.

As it approached the Hatteras area, the storm took a slightly more northeasterly course. This kept Gladys some 25 miles off the Outer Banks and prevented the full brunt of her winds from affecting the coast.

The Red Cross reported about 1,000 persons, mostly tourists, spent the night in 17 shelters in public buildings, but left Sunday morning.

Gladys moved northeastward 60 to 70 miles off the South Carolina coast Saturday night. To the south, Gladys left three persons dead and a multi-million dollar trail of damage in Florida.

Jackie Will Not Lose Citizenship

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy's marriage to Greek-born multimillionaire Aristotle Onassis had no effect on her U.S. citizenship, an American official said Sunday. In response to a query, a spokesman for the State Department's Passport Office said the citizenship status of the late president's widow is not affected automatically by the fact of her marriage. He added that she could, of course, renounce her American citizenship if she chose to take that of her new husband.

Proclaims

Clean Air Week

JAMESTOWN — In a proclamation issued over the weekend, Mayor Charles Magnuson officially proclaimed the week of Oct. 20-26 as Cleaner Air Week. The mayor called upon Jamestown residents to join with the city government, the Chautauqua County TB and respiratory disease association, local industry, and the County Health Department in supporting the activities of the Chautauqua County Action for Clean Air Committee. Noting that President Johnson has proclaimed this week as Cleaner Air Week throughout the country, the mayor pointed to the need to protect our air resources. "There is," said the mayor, "increasingly strong medical evidence of the harmful effects of air pollution on respiratory health."

The proclamation made mention of the tons on contaminants from refuse, illegal leaf burning, cars, trucks and buses, uncontrolled industrial processes and inefficient heating and power systems which continue to create health and economic hazards. The mayor also praised the educational programs of the County Action for Clean Air Committee, which are designed to institute preventive measures to keep the county's air from being further polluted.

Wedding

p.m. after the bride and groom left the moored yacht Christina separately. Onassis overcoat-clad, arrived at the chapel by car but Mrs. Kennedy, with John, 7, and Caroline, 10, went in a speedboat that docked only a few yards from the door.

Guests, having arrived by car, were at dockside with rain gear but Mrs. Kennedy, in keeping with her flair for the different, braved the drizzle without an umbrella and walked to the chapel.

Caroline, the darling of her late father, wore white, John, in the kind of suit that little boys wear, traipsed alongside his mother.

The 500-acre island was almost ringed by boats containing highly interested sight-seers.

They hovered a few yards offshore in hope of getting a glimpse of some of the activities.

Most were unrewarded. The chapel is nearly obscured by stately cypress trees which were dripping wet and hung drearily limp.

All the pomp of a Greek wedding-however private it is-unfolded as the couple exchanged gold rings and the priest crowned them with white orange blossoms, a sign of both purity and fertility.

Mrs. Kennedy's children and Alexander Onassis, 21, and Christina, 19, children by Onassis' former marriage to Tina Livanos, watched the 45-minute ceremony with interest.

The highpoint came when the priest raised a gold-encased New Testament and both bride and groom in turn kissed it.

This in effect only confirmed Onassis' faith in his native religion. It meant something else to the bride, a Roman Catholic.

There is divided opinion among theologians if this action, solemnizing a marriage to a divorced man, will permit her to receive Catholic sacraments. Some say an annulment of Onassis' former marriage would unblock that problem.

Others say there is an ecumenical tendency these days for the Vatican to recognize what the Greek Orthodox church recognizes, and the Greek church has accepted the Onassis divorce.

It was in the nearby island of Lefkas that Onassis obtained the marriage license from the bishopric of the diocese governing his private island on ecclesiastical matters.

To get it he was required to submit a document that he had obtained a divorce locally from his former wife, which he did, plus a statement from the U.S. consulate in Athens that Mrs. Kennedy was a widow and free to marry.

Turkish

marry a Greek is a rude shock. Turks cried openly in the streets when Kennedy was slain. "Now John Kennedy is really dead," a columnist wrote.

Leftists and conservatives have joined in attacking the match in the Turkish press. A Socialist writer lashed Onassis' personal life and said Jacqueline Kennedy had been "sold" for wealth. A conservative writer raved that Jacqueline Kennedy was an "angel of death" and worse.

The respected moderate Abd Ipekci, editor of the daily Milliyet, wrote that Jacqueline Kennedy had been considered the international symbol of the Kennedy legend but proved this was not so by her decision. "So much for that," Ipekci wrote.

ing by girls in local costumes. The officials of Lefkas urged cafes and restaurants to serve local wines free to the visitors.

The journalists brought an economic boomlet to Nidri, renting rooms in homes, chartering fishing boats to patrol near Skorprios and crowding the few village cafes day and night.

After the wedding today, most of the visitors departed as swiftly as they had come, and the interrupted, and unwelcome, tranquility returned to the village.

Onassis Yacht Christina Is A Floating Palace

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The rakish yacht of Jacqueline Kennedy's new husband is a floating palace, crusted with marble and gold, complete with playthings for children and adults. Aristotle Onassis' French butler, Charles Bosco, guided a private tour of the gleaming white Christina when the sleek 303-foot converted destroyer res-tocked recently at the Port of Miami.

Charles, the major domo who has served Onassis at sea since the Greek shipping lord purchased Christina in the early 1950s, proudly pointed out each knick-knack as a library of Winston Churchill's writings personally inscribed by the author, a gold sextant from King Saud, whale skin bar stools in the intimate lounge and a stack of opera scores beside the bat-tened-down grand piano.

Onassis' collection of Chinese vases is lashed carefully to the floor. Elegance is the mode on the yacht named for Onassis' 19-year-old daughter.

An El Greco oil dominates his multilingual library which shares top deck with the master stateroom. It even has a fireplace at the head of a spiral staircase to Onassis' retreat.

The stateroom is dominated by a low king size bed beneath a gilt-framed mirror. The sheets are hand-appliqued, Greek icons stand on nightstands beside the bed. Floor lamps and a plush sofa round out the golden room.

A his-and-hers bathroom has twin sinks with gold plumbing. The large cafe au lait marble bathtub is lined with blue mosaics with walls and marble tile to match. A shower and commode in the master bath are hidden in closets behind two-way mirrors, reflective from the bathroom side but clear glass from inside the tiny rooms.

Staterooms, each with a library in several languages, provide luxurious living for 22 guests. The redecorating talent applied by the wife of President John F. Kennedy in the White House might be employed to update fading splendor in the guest quarters.

But the yacht Christina already is equipped for Caroline and John F. Kennedy Jr. Between the staterooms and bar is the disused playroom with original storybook murals designed for Christina and her brother, Alexander, now 21. Child size tables and chairs provide a separate dining area and room to play away from the adult world.

Crowning playthings aboard include the swimming pool, a twin-engine amphibious airplane on the poop deck, speedy launches and a slot machine in the bar.

One stateroom is converted to a private hospital complete with an operating table and equipped for major surgery the butler said on the tour in May.

The Christina's crew of 45 will be able to discuss arrangements in their native French which Kennedy's widow speaks fluently.

Enemy Documents Hint Winter-Spring Offensive

SAIGON (AP) — Captured enemy documents are "talking about a winter-spring offensive across South Vietnam" with Saigon as one of the targets, U.S. military sources said Sunday. "We've got to be very careful," said one source, discounting rumors that a three-week lull in major ground fighting could be a de-escalation move by Hanoi.

"You can make a case either way. But I like to believe they (the enemy command) have had to do this rather than that they wanted to."

"If they are going to make a change, it should become apparent in some of the documents or prisoner of war interrogation reports and it hasn't become apparent yet. The stuff coming in each day continues to show some sort of offensive intent."

The winter-spring offensive of 1967-68, aimed at the conquest of Saigon and other major cities, was the enemy's most powerful effort of the war. All remain in allied hands.

American fighter-bombers flew more raids over North Vietnam Sunday amid continuing speculation about a possible bombing halt.

This was heightened by another meeting between President Nguyen Van Thieu and U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, their fourth in five days.

Officials declined to comment on the meeting beyond saying it lasted more than an hour.

Thieu announced Saturday there had been "no breakthrough" at the Paris peace talks. But this has not eliminated speculation that Washington is preparing, or has already presented, a new peace package to Hanoi that includes a bombing halt as one of the mutual de-escalation terms.

Humphrey's running mate, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, in a separate television appearance, said if Sen. Eugene McCarthy continues to refuse to support the Democratic ticket, party regulars will resent it.

Richard M. Nixon, the Republican nominee, spent the day relaxing in New York. He attended church services with evangelist Billy Graham, then walked back to his Fifth Avenue apartment.

In a statement issued in New York, Nixon, saying his administration would be "second to none in its concern for education," urged establishment of a program to put volunteer college and high school students to work as tutors in city schools.

Third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace said he was opposed to a bombing halt in North Vietnam unless the United States is assured of clearly defined concessions.

Political Roundup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vice president Hubert H. Humphrey said Sunday he did not think the government of South Vietnam should be able to exercise a veto over any U.S. decision to stop the bombing of North Vietnam.

His statement appeared to put him at odds with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu who has said his government feels the current lull in the war has no significance as a peace gesture.

In a television interview, Humphrey said, "The American people expect the government of South Vietnam to be cooperative. We've borne a heavy burden in this war."

Kennedy Memoir Details 1962 Cuban Missile Crisis

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy, in his personal account of the 1962 Cuban missile crisis, said that President John F. Kennedy's military advisers seemed unable to see beyond their recommendations for military action.

One member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Kennedy wrote, urged that nuclear weapons be used on Cuba.

One member of the joint chiefs, he said at another point, said he believed in a preventive attack on Russia.

"I thought, as I listened," the late senator wrote, "of the many times that I had heard the military take positions which, if wrong, had the advantage that no one would be around at the end to know."

With the exception of retired Gen. Maxwell Taylor, Kennedy wrote, President Kennedy was "distressed" that the military advisers apparently felt there would be no response from the Soviet Union or Cuba to military action by this country.

And, if there was a response, he continued, these advisers seemed to feel a war would be in this nation's best interest.

Even after Soviet Premier Khrushchev announced on Sunday, Oct. 28, 1962, that he was withdrawing the missiles, thus ending a nuclear confrontation, one high military adviser, Kennedy said, urged that the United States attack Cuba anyway.

This approach, Kennedy said, underscored the need for civilian control, for carefully examining military recommendations and was one of the reasons his brother considered Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara the most valuable man in the government.

Senator Kennedy's 21,000-word memoir was published Sunday by McCall's magazine. McCall's paid an unprecedented price of more than $1 million for it. The magazine limited direct quotation of the article to 200 words.

The account of the crisis, titled "Thirteen Days," places much greater emphasis on President Kennedy's concern with his military advisers than do accounts by Theodore C. Sorensen in his book, "Kennedy," and Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr.'s, "A Thousand Days."

Kennedy wrote that Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, then Air Force chief of staff, was a strong advocate of military attack against Cuba.

LeMay, now vice presidential candidate with third party candidate George C. Wallace, assured the President the Russians would not react, Kennedy said.

To which the President replied, "They, no more than we, can let these things go by without doing something. They can't, after all their statements, permit us to take out their missiles, kill a lot of Russians, and then do nothing. If they don't take action in Cuba, they certainly will in Berlin."

The memoir said President Kennedy had to withstand "forceful arguments from the military that he escalate his planned action, and it details sharp, frequently emotional debate among all the advisers."

Because of the immense pressure, Kennedy said, some of the advisers even seemed to "lose their judgment and stability."

The memoir includes some private thoughts: Sen. Kennedy described a grave moment in the deliberations when Soviet ships were within a few miles of the quarantine line marked by U.S. ships. He watched his brother.

"His hand went up to his face and covered his mouth. He opened and closed his fist. His face seemed drawn, his eyes pained, almost gray. We stared at each other across the table."

"Inexplicably I thought of when he was ill and almost died; when he lost his child; when we learned that our oldest brother had been killed; of personal times of strain and hurt."

When the sudden word came that the Russians were withdrawing the missiles, Robert Kennedy was at a horse show in the Washington Armory. With nothing to do but to await the possibility of a military confrontation, he said, he took his daughters to the horse show. He said he had long promised them that he would.

He got the news in a telephone call to the armory from Secretary of State Dean Rusk and went to the White House. He said he and his brother talked for a long time.

Sen. Kennedy, while stressing the importance of civilian control over the military, said the missile crisis also showed the need for respect around the world for this country.

Respect, friends and allies, Kennedy said, made the American action in the crisis possible.

Writing five years later, Kennedy said he detected a sense of isolationism in the country and in Congress. He said it would be useful to look back to October 1962.

Kennedy said distress over the Vietnam war should not cloud the possibility of other missile crises, however different, in the future.

Neo-Nazis Make Poor Showing

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — West Germany's far right National Democratic Party—NPD—dubbed neo-Nazi by its critics, made a poor showing Sunday in local elections in two states, polling 5.2 per cent of the vote in both Hesse and the Saarland.

The totals were not impressive in view of NPD chief Adolf von Thadden's prediction that the party would win 50 seats in next year's national elections. The percentages were just above the 5 per cent figure needed to qualify for representation in the parliament.

The four-year-old party already holds seats in seven of West Germany's 10 state parliaments. The results of Sunday's election will give NPD its first city and county council seats in the three states.

In Hesse the Social Democrats—SPD—got 49.9 per cent compared to 51.7 per cent in 1964, and the Christian Democrats—CDU—22.9 per cent compared to 29 in 1964. In the Saarland the SPD got 37.4 per cent compared with 39.9 in 1964 and the CDU 39.8 per cent compared to 37.4 in 1964.

THE HARRIS SURVEY

Although Richard Nixon held a 5-point lead over Hubert Humphrey with three and a half weeks to go in the campaign, Sen. Edmund Muskie was individually preferred for Vice President by 41 to 24 per cent over Gov. Spiro Agnew, the Republican nominee, with Gen. Curtis LeMay on the George Wallace ticket at 14 per cent. These results represent a sharp shift from mid-September, when Muskie led Agnew by 33 to 30 per cent.

More than in most elections, the choice of a vice presidential running mate could prove to be a pivotal element in the 1968 campaign. Ordinarily, the mechanics of the American voting system, which requires a unit vote for the two candidates paired for the two top offices, works to focus attention on the presidential nominee. This year, however, there has been a "softness" in public enthusiasm for the presidential nominees of both major parties.

Even among people who now say they plan to vote for the ticket headed by Nixon, 25 per cent prefer the Democratic nominee for Vice President over Nixon's choice for second place. The Maryland governor is backed by only 51 per cent of all Nixon voters, compared with 76 per cent of the voters who pick Wallace as their first choice for President.

A cross section of 1,899 voters was asked Oct. 8-10: "IF YOU HAD TO CHOOSE BETWEEN THE VICE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES — GOV. SPIRO AGNEW FOR THE REPUBLICANS, SEN. EDMUND MUSKIE FOR THE DEMO. CRATS AND GEN. CURTIS LEMAY, RUNNING WITH WALLACE, WHO WOULD YOU BE FOR?"

	MUSKIE	AGNEW	LEMay	Not sure
VICE PRESIDENT RATINGS
TOTAL VOTERS	41	24	14	21
PER CENT

Compared with roughly one month before, Muskie has gained 8 points, while Agnew has slipped 6 points and the American Independent Party candidate has risen 6 points. It should be pointed out that in September LeMay had not been named, and voters could only express a preference for "Wallace's running mate," whomever he might be.

The real significance of Muskie's popularity can be seen when key group preferences are examined:

KEY GROUP PREFERENCES FOR VICE PRESIDENT

	MUSKIE	AGNEW	LEMay	Not sure
PERCENT	PERCENT	PERCENT	PERCENT	PERCENT
NATIONWIDE	41	24	14	21
By region
East (29 Pct.)	49	23	8	20

Suburbs (26 Pct.)	47	26	11	16
Towns (22 Pct.)	32	27	18	23
Rural (23 Pct.)	35	22	19	24

Muskie holds a substantial lead in every region of the country except the South. There, LeMay, riding the Wallace crest, just edges out the Maine senator.

When the electorate is analyzed by education, the significant result is Muskie's appeal among the college educated, a group where Nixon has held a wide 53-to-29 per cent edge over Humphrey in the contest for the Presidency.

On the age dimension, the pivotal group is the under-35 segment, where Muskie is ahead by 15 points, despite a Nixon lead over Humphrey of 6 points.

When the voting preference is analyzed by size of place, Muskie heads his opponents in every category.

This contrasts sharply with the race for President, where Nixon has been leading regionally in the East, Midwest and West, only trailing in the South. This could make Nixon's lead in the electoral college potential at this point, decided on a state-by-state basis, a different story than his nationwide percentage might indicate.

Here are the Nixon-Humphrey-Wallace results among comparable groups:

	HUMPHREY	NIXON	WALLACE	Not sure
PCT.	PCT.	PCT.	PCT.	PCT.
NATIONWIDE	35	40	18	7

By size of place
Cities	46	33	14	7
Suburbs	35	43	13	9
Towns	28	45	21	6
Rural	31	37	26	6

Most revealing of the deep appeal which Sen. Muskie is demonstrating in this election can be seen in a breakdown of the preference for Vice President analyzed by presidential choice:

CHOICE FOR VICE PRESIDENT BY CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT

	NIXON	HUMPHREY	WALLACE
PERCENT	PERCENT	PERCENT	PERCENT
Prefer for Vice President
Muskie	25	76	12
Agnew	51	3	11
LeMay	5	4	57
Not sure	19	17	20

By all previous experience, the candidates for Vice President are far more important before they are named and at the party conventions than in the final decision-making process of voters. However, with four cases during this century in which the Vice President has succeeded to the White House, it is possible that 1968 could be an exception.

If that is the case, the Humphrey-Muskie ticket would be the main beneficiary of any influence by the vice presidential choice.

"I THINK IT'S DISGUSTING—HE'S NOT THE TYPE I WOULD'VE PICKED FOR HER!"

MASON DENISON

Shafer Boosts Nixon Cause

HARRISBURG — In the campaign to date, this one indisputable point unquestionably stands out: Governor Shafer most certainly cannot be accused of reneging on his convention pledge to go all out campaigning in behalf of Republican presidential hopeful Richard M. Nixon!

It will be recalled that among many observers there was a conviction at the time that any so-called "Shafer supporting activities" in behalf of Mr. Nixon would be of the lip-service variety at best — in view of the fact that he had been one of the prime movers behind the unsuccessful candidacy of New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller.

This very definitely however has not turned out to be the case. Since the GOP convention in Miami Beach in August, His Excellency has trumped up and down the state as the occasion arose to boost the Nixon cause.

Of course this effort has not been confined to the Nixon cause exclusively; there has been what might loosely be termed a "selfish reason" that has also dominated Mr. Shafer's trudge — namely, in working in behalf of the Nixon candidacy the effort should also produce results insofar as the Pennsylvania GOP is concerned.

In other words, the greater the chance of Pennsylvania swinging into the Nixon column November 5, the greater the chance of Keystone State Republicans carrying the banner on the statewide front insofar as the state-wide offices are concerned (Auditor General, State Treasurer et al) plus the great and fond hope that a Nixon win in Pennsylvania would help assure Republican control of the Legislature.

This latter point is a touching and critical one insofar as Mr. Shafer is concerned; after all, in the remaining two years of his tenure he will have to live with the Legislature elected next month.

Seemingly illustrative of the effort put forth by His Excellency in behalf of the Nixon cause, in addition to his in-state joggings, are the forays made out-of-state by the Governor along the Nixon campaign trail.

For example, his campaign trips in behalf of Mr. Nixon include August 15 in Columbus, Ohio; August 16 in New York City; September 7 and 8 in Little Rock, Arkansas; September 12 in Charleston, West Virginia; September 17 in Burlington, Vermont; two days later in St. Louis, Missouri; the following day in Seattle, Washington; the day after that in Chicago; then September 28 in Cleveland, and September 30 and 31 in Nashville.

During the current month he has four out-of-state campaign trips — October 6 in Tarrytown, N. Y.; October 7 in New York City, October 19 in Buffalo, N. Y., and upcoming October 24 in Albany, N. Y.

It is interesting to note that his heaviest out-of-state schedule developed during the month of September. This is the way it had been planned, the idea being to permit His Excellency during this final month of October to spend as much time as possible building GOP fences in his home state.

With the exception of the four out-of-state appearances scheduled for October, the Governor has been and will continue concentrating on the Pennsylvania scene — helping local lawmakers in their campaigns, speaking at fund-raising dinners, working with the nine regional rallies of committeemen and committee women (which incidentally have had attendance and enthusiasm greatly exceeding original expectations), campaign speech-making, etc.

The Governor at this point is referred to by aides as being very tired but determined to pound the campaign trail to the end. So far he has traveled more than 20,000 miles out-of-state in behalf of the Nixon candidacy. The Nixon people have referred to Mr. Shafer as the most active Governor in the campaign of any of the big states, and as one aide expressed it: "We're very pleased with the effort put forth by Governor Shafer."

All of which doesn't sound like a one-projected "reneging Governor?"

"I'm tired of the image you press people are givin' the general and mch self."

Round-the-Clock Servicemen

You call the electrician and ask him to come to your apartment to do a small rewiring job. You explain that you're a working wife and that therefore nobody is home until 5:30 p. m., Monday through Friday. He explains that he doesn't work after 5:30, or on weekends. You don't dare leave your house key under the doormat, so you end up missing a whole day of work, and possibly a day of pay, in order to be on hand to receive the electrician.

Or, let's say you trust your plumber enough to leave the key for him so that he can get into your house and fix a leak in a bathroom faucet while you're at work. But he misunderstands your telephone instructions and changes the washer in the wrong faucet. You must then call him back to do the needed job, and you end up paying for two service calls instead of one.

One of the most frustrating penalties for being a working woman today is that we can't get needed services as easily as non-working women because the people who are supposed to repair our homes, redecorate our apartments, fix our TV sets, lay our carpets and tune up our cars have the same work schedules as we do.

Working women must therefore either risk leaving their homes open while they're out or miss valuable working hours at their jobs. Even if they can manage to take time off from their jobs to explain what needs fixing to a plumber or a carpenter or a furnace repairman, the repairman seldom will tell you precisely what time he'll arrive.

As a result, I suspect, millions of women today waste tens of millions of hours each year simply waiting around their homes to greet repairmen who even then may not turn up. Today, 37 per cent of married women in this country are in the labor force. In all, 28,000,000 American women, married and single, are working at jobs. In millions of cases, our homes are closed during our work hours.

For years, major department stores, particularly in the large metropolitan areas and in the suburbs, have been keeping their doors open until 8 or 9 on at least a few weekday evenings, and on Saturdays mainly to fill our needs.

For years, supermarkets have maintained convenient evening hours three or four days a week, also primarily because of us. Their doors are always open on Saturdays and sometimes even on Sundays.

Discount houses have tailored their hours too to working, as well as non-working, women and men, and often the big rush hours are in the evenings.

Why can't more of those who regularly sell us tens of billions of dollars of services match those who sell us goods and provide their services during their customers' non-working hours? Admittedly, a minority do, but most don't.

Why can't appliance repair and other service firms stagger workdays so that there are always some servicemen available on Saturdays and evenings? Admittedly, some firms offer this as "premium" service, but even if you will pay the extra charges, finding the worker is definitely tough.

Many other types of workers, movie projector operators, newspaper printers, bakers, truck drivers, airline pilots, building maintenance workers (and me), routinely work during evenings and weekends in addition to or instead of daytimes and weekdays. In many cases there isn't even a premium for night and weekend services.

The worst sufferer from this service gap is the single working woman living alone and afraid to leave her home open to any stranger unless she is there to direct the worker. Won't you who can help her do so once you recognize her problem?

Law Firm Conduit for Pay-offs

WASHINGTON — Congressmen don't advertise it, but some of them have found that the most convenient conduit for political pay-offs is a law firm. One of those who has made this discovery and has taken advantage of it is Rep. Ed Gurney, Republican of Florida.

Last year the Florida Turnpike Authority paid $21,647.49 to Gurney's law firm, Gurney and Skoifield in Winter Park, Fla., a post suburb of Orlando.

The vouchers justifying this legal bill cited, in part, the firm's efforts to settle a 12-year-old $215,312 claim against the Turnpike Authority by the engineering firm of Howard, Needles, Tammen and Bergendoff.

Previous counsel for the Turnpike Authority had ruled against paying the engineering firm anything at all, on the grounds that the claim was non-collectable. Yet the Gurney law firm negotiated a $155,000 out-of-court settlement, then billed the Florida taxpayers for legal services.

In other words, the taxpayers were asked to pay for the privilege of paying a dubious claim that was 12 years old.

All parties to the settlement, it develops, belong to the same political crowd. They supported Claude Kirk for governor two years ago, and he found ways to reward them after he moved into the state house.

Gurney found himself virtually unopposed for re-election to Congress in 1966, so he turned his campaign machinery over to Kirk. Later Gurney was invited to be master of ceremonies at Kirk's inaugural.

After he was sworn in, the new governor found a more substantial way to reward Gurney. The Turnpike Authority's full-time attorney, G. Warren Sanchez, was sacked, and the legal work was turned over to Gurney's firm. During the first year, the firm ran up a legal bill almost double the $11,500 annual salary that had been paid to Sanchez.

Meanwhile, the Howard, Needles engineering firm suddenly pressed for payment of a 1956 claim, having to do with a stretch of parkway that was never constructed. As far back as Jan. 18, 1961, the firm had agreed in a letter to the Turnpike Authority that its work on the project "is considered not salvable."

This relieved the taxpayers, in Sanchez's opinion, of any obligation to pay the old claim. He had not paid it and the statute of limitations had run on the claim.

However, the engineering firm sought out Stewart Gilman, one of Gurney's political cronies, to handle the claim. Both Gurney and Gilman are Republican pillars in Winter Park, Fla.

The Gurney firm then reversed Sanchez's ruling and agreed to a $155,000 settlement. The Congressman has tried to pretend that he is somehow aloof from his law firm, but the firm made the oversight in its vouchers of listing a conference call with Gurney regarding the settlement.

Gilman, when queried by phone, refused to discuss the case. Gurney ignored repeated requests for an appointment.

The Congressman also appears to be linked

A Reporter Never Quits

This is written for the men on the city desk. They will understand. I am off to a dinner in Charlotte, North Carolina, to say farewell to Kays Gary, a good reporter who is quitting to promote a Boys Town and to keep money coming in for the dying babies at Holy Angels Nursery.

Too much heart, not enough head. No reporter quits. He fingers the ring tapestry of public relations like a girl who, for the first time, is about to be kept. There is yearning and regret in the move. From now on, when he sees the fire engines go by, he tries to turn his mind off and think of what he fondly refers to as a presentation. But the brain pulses with recollections of other fires, other deadlines.

There is no sentimentality in it. It's a calling, like the priesthood. Anyone can quit, but it walks at your side for the rest of your days. Once, a long time ago, I met Kays Gary in Berlin and he dogged my steps sniffing the stories of the Soviet threat long before East Germany thought of building a wall for lame pygmies.

He was short and dark and he wore a homemade smile and a lick of gray in his hair. I didn't have to be introduced. I know the breed. The pants wear a shiny face and the jacket bulges with pencils. He knew his routine; he could write a ten-point lead that would grab a reader and hang onto him.

Tom Fesperman, managing editor of the Charlotte Observer, will meet me at the airport and we will talk about what each of us will say at the dinner. "I came not to bury Caesar . . ." That's wrong because Gary isn't a Caesar. Nor is he being buried. He is leaving to do more for others than he has done — which is considerable.

Gary makes some of us look like bums. He cares. Such an emotion is beyond the purview of a reporter. A good journalist with a strange land deal at Apopka, Fla. On March 5, 1965, a Florida corporation called Bay-Lake Palms systematically started buying property along Highway 441, six blocks east of the central business district.

Only 25 days later, the Postmaster General selected this particular location as the site for a new Apopka post office. The Bay-Lake Palms corporation not only owned the post office site but the surrounding property as well. This has now been turned into a shopping center, called Palm Plaza. Other Bay-Lake property became the site of a new bank called the Commercial Bank.

Gurney's law partner, John T. Skoifield, happens to be one of the officers of Bay-Lake Palms. Indeed, the corporation listed its offices at the same address — 501 Park Avenue, South, Winter Park, Fla. — as the Gurney-Skoifield law firm.

Gurney is also a director of Combanks Corporation, which owns the new Apopka bank.

It is interesting how good fortune seems to shine on politicians with the right connections.

Note: Gurney is now running for the Senate in Florida against ex-Governor LeRoy Collins.

Rep. Bob Wilson of San Diego, the big money-raiser for Republican Congressmen, has been making all sorts of alibis over the fact that he was absent from Washington during parts of September at the very same time he was recorded as present and voting on various roll calls.

Wilson has been claiming that this was a mistake on the part of the House functionaries and that he had nothing to do with the error. Interesting fact, however, is that Wilson did not correct the error until Rep. Les Arends of Illinois, Republican Whip, telephoned him and demanded that he come back to Washington and straighten things out.

You can write it down that after the elections, the House Ethics Committee under tough Rep. Mel Price, D-Ill., will hold hearings on the very strange issue of Wilson's absenteeism and force a showdown as to who has been telling the truth.

George Wackenhut, whose private security force was hired temporarily by Gov. Claude Kirk to combat crime in Florida, has been ransacking the state for an oversize stuffed elephant.

The elephant, which twirled around on a pedestal, disappeared mysteriously from the Hilton Plaza hotel, which served as Nixon's headquarters during the GOP convention. It had been contributed as an adornment to the Nixon layout by Brown Forman, the liquor distributor. Now the company would like its elephant back.

The padded pachyderm, complete with pedestal, was more than ten feet high. The sheepish Wackenhut, who was entrusted with guarding Nixon headquarters, would like to know how revelers managed to smuggle this monstrous decoration out of the hotel past his guards. He has offered a reward to the detective in his organization who can find out.

Note: Here is a hint. The missing elephant was transported clandestinely across the state line and is now hidden in Washington.

me on the old Daily Mirror and he was once the editor of American Mercury. He sleeps late in Fort Lauderdale.

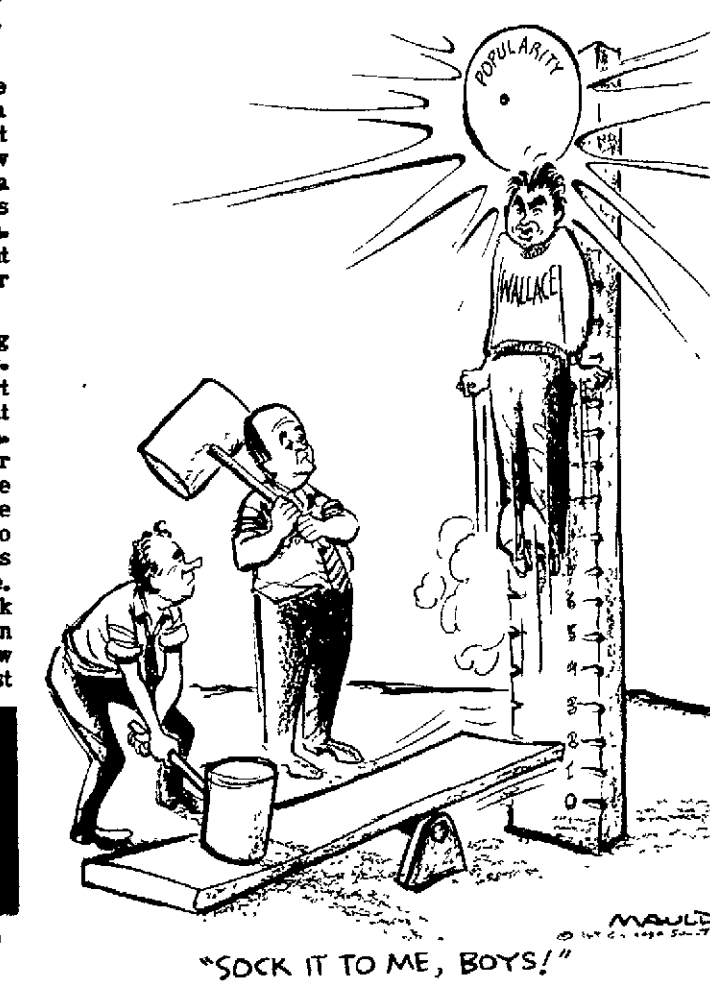

I once knew a reporter who accepted a briefcase from a gangster as a Christmas gift. When he opened it, there was $40,000 in twenty-dollar bills inside. He searched his conscience and, finding that he had none, went out and bought a small country daily newspaper. He's the biggest reporter in his town.

Mark Hellinger, about whom I wrote a few days ago, quit the business to become a Hollywood producer at $3,500 a week. At night he haunted newspaper offices in Los Angeles and New York just to sniff the day-old sandwiches and the cold sludge of coffee in the wax containers.

The young reporters were afraid to say hello because he looked rich. Winchell stayed on because, like me, he doesn't know anything else. I knew a rewrite man who even thought of his own obit when his ticker fluttered for the final time.

"The doc told me to quit," he said, "I just couldn't. In this business, it's better to die a day too soon than to live a year too long." . . .

Mortgage Burned at St. Paul Center

By FRANKLIN R. HOFF

The ceremony of the burning of a $58,000 mortgage at St. Paul Center at Saybrook, Oct. 20, 1968, was a joyful occasion for some 600 members of St. Anthony parish of Sheffield and St. Clara parish of Clarendon, assembled.

As parishioners and clergy turned one shining page in the history and progress of the parish with the mortgage burning a new exciting page was opened with the announcement of a committee of twelve for the building of a new church for the combined parish, probably at the St. Paul Center site.

The committee, when filled completely, will include six members from each parish. For the first time in the history of the two churches, a woman has been appointed to the church committee, Miss Mary Richwalsky, for St. Anthony Parish. The woman member for St. Clara Parish will be announced shortly.

Miss Irene Richwalsky was appointed as parish notary, to record and notarize the transactions of the committee, and attend its meetings, without a vote.

Members of the joint committee include: Michael Kalin, Claire Fitzgerald, Miss Mary Richwalsky, Ralph Santo, Howard Thompson, Joseph Montore, Sam Pusateri, Anthony Polimene, Lou Slater, Thomas Sanford, George Moldovan and Gerald Kingsley.

During the ceremony of burning the mortgage, Paul Harrington, of the Pennsylvania Bank and Trust Company, handed the completed mortgage to Msgr. James Gannon, dean of the Erie Area, who held the document while the Rev. Father Francis Tushim put the match to it. He then handed it to The Rev. Fr. John Carter, who placed the blazing paper in an iron kettle suspended from a tripod, where it burned to ashes.

Father Carter commented on an ecumenical note, saying that if the tripod and kettle seemed to resemble the Salvation Army Christmas kettle, it actually was that kettle, loaned for the occasion.

Concelebrants for the Mass of Thanksgiving which preceded the ceremony of burning of the mortgage, were Msgr. James Gannon, dean of the Erie Area; the Rev. Father Francis Tushim, former pastor and originator of the project for the St. Paul Center; the Rev. Father Mark Roueche, chaplain at Warren State Hospital, who assists St. Anthony-St. Clara parish each weekend; the Rev. Father Julius Kubinyi, pastor of St. Michael's Greek Catholic Church in Sheffield; and the Rev. Father John T. Carter, pastor of St. Anthony-St. Clara Roman Catholic parish.

Brief remarks by the Rev. Father Francis Tushim, Monsignor James Gannon and the Rev. Father John T. Carter followed the dinner.

In the program specially printed as a souvenir of the occasion, there was a gallery of photographs depicting the history of St. Paul Center beginning with Ground Breaking on August 16, 1964, construction under way. The Rev. Fr. Tushim and laymen of the parish at a workbee; the Rev. Father Tushim inspecting the new boiler installation; the arrival of the Rev. Father John Carter, being welcomed as his successor by the Rev. Father Francis Tushim and church committeemen Claire Fitzgerald; the Rev. Father John Carter at the dedication of O'Connor Hall at the Center; and the completed edifice.

Man Goes On Rampage, Blasts Four

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two brothers were in the hospital Sunday recovering from wounds after a man went on a rampage and blasted four people with a shotgun.

Leonard C. Williams, 29, was listed in guarded condition in Pittsburgh Hospital with a gunshot wound of the left arm. His brother, Maurice Williams, 14, was listed in fair condition with a wound of the right arm.

The hospital said Pearl Dazler, 39, and John Whitney, 12, were released after treatment of superficial wounds.

Police arrested 42-year-old Manfield Wells and charged him with assault with intent to kill. A hearing has been set for Tuesday in city court.

Police said they were called to the area of the Wells home Saturday night in the city's predominantly Negro Homewood section. They said there had been reports of boys breaking windows.

Two officers said that when they got to the area they found Williams and his brother suffering from gunshot wounds. They said Leonard Williams was trying to throw a brick at Wells who was standing on the porch of his house holding a shotgun. The officers said Wells fired the shotgun at Williams but hit Mrs. Dazler who was standing nearby.

COMMITTEE NAMED FOR NEW CHURCH

At the burning of the $58,000 mortgage at St. Paul Center Sunday afternoon, following a Thanksgiving Mass, the Rev. Fr. John T. Carter announced the names of a joint committee of St. Clara-St. Anthony parish of Clarendon and Sheffield for the building of a new church edifice, probably at the St. Paul Center site. handwriting was Father Carter's tribute. "Pastor's sincere tribute: St. Paul Center is a 'Memorial' to the prayers and good works of so many people. Let it always be to the honor of this generation of parishioners from St. Clara and St. Anthony parish to have succeeded so magnificently. God's Blessings."

During his remarks Msgr. James Gannon recalled the great interest of the late Archbishop John Gannon in the St. Paul Center—especially in regard to its service to the youth of the parish, always close to his heart.

The Rev. Father Francis Tushim, in response to glowing tributes from The Rev. Father Carter for his vision and far view in conceiving the facility for the spiritual education of youth, and the spiritual and social growth not only of the members of the parish, but the entire region as well, responded with a tribute to the zeal and sacrifice of the members of the parish who carried it through, and to the leadership of their present pastor who managed to guide them in evaporating the $58,000 mortgage within such an incredibly short period of three years.

In his response, and his remarks to the members of the parish assembled, their pastor, the Rev. Fr. John Carter reminded them that the accomplishment of the creation of St. Paul Center, a project that had come about as a work of the Holy Spirit, is a monument to the faithfulness of the people of the parish.

"We have worked hard for a little over three years, now," he declared, "but we can't rest on our laurels. We know we must go forward." He mentioned the prayer and the thought that goes into decisions that affect not only the present members, but tens and hundreds of thousands of people in days to come, with the building of a new facility such as St. Paul Center—or a new church.

The pastor took special pleasure in introducing architect Paul Weber and his wife Claire, who came from Erie to take part in the occasion. Weber, of the architectural firm of Gray, Weber and Kern of Erie, was the designer of St. Paul Center.

CREME HAIR-RINSES

Q. What are the benefits of using creme rinses on the hair?

A. Shampooing removes much of the hair's oily film, giving the hair a dry, dull appearance. Static charges that make the hair "fly," also tend to develop after shampooing. Creme rinses are designed to help overcome both problems. They usually contain anti-static substances and other ingredients which make the hair feel soft and improve the gloss. These rinses are especially helpful for hair damaged by excessive bleaching, waving and repeated dyeing.

HEART SIZE

Q. What causes heart enlargement?

A. The heart enlarges when it is required to do extra work because of some circulatory abnormality (high blood pressure, valvular disease, or heart muscle damage from a heart attack). An enlarged heart does not necessarily mean a failing heart. The cause of the enlargement should, of course, be determined.

Youth Fellowship Has Hayride Along Abandoned Railroad Tracks

The abandoned Penn-Central Railroad track which goes through Pittsfield on its way from Titusville to Irvine, was put to novel use Saturday night by about 275 young people of the Jamestown-Warren District Youth Fellowship of the United Methodist Church.

They took a hayride aboard nine tractor-drawn wagons for about a mile along the old railroad.

Several months ago the rails were removed along the 46-mile length of the track, and the ties were thrown to either side of the right-of-way. The last train, a freight, travelled on the nearly 100-year-old track about a year ago, and there was recently a proposal that it become a publicly owned hiking trail. The line is historic; it was originally built to tap the riches of the then-new oil field. The route is scenic, winding through glacially-gauged valleys.

The sun had just set and it was a fine fall night filled with the smell of burning leaves, when the Youth Fellowship rally started from the Pittsfield church and took to the old railroad as far as Coover Crossing. There they got on to the Old Pittsfield Road and continued through Youngville to the York Mountain Skilodge, where they had a "hootenanny," led by Nancy Clark and Radford Clark of the Pittsfield Youth Fellowship.

Nancy, the daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. Robert Clark, sang in trio with Debbie and Kathie Chappel. "Rad", son of Mr. and Mrs. Noble Clark, was soloist. In charge of the rally was Mr. James Clark of the Pittsfield Church.

The outing wound up with refreshments for all.

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Harrisburg Patriot and Evening News is supporting Richard Nixon for President.

In an editorial published Sunday in the combined Sunday paper, the newspaper said Nixon "has the strong qualities of leadership needed to bring this country away from the brink of disaster."

The paper said Nixon's opponent, Hubert Humphrey, "does not" have these leadership qualities. The editorial said Humphrey is "bound inextricably to the policies and failures that have put this country in deep trouble."

Five Persons Escape From East Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — With bullets whizzing after them through daybreak fog, a young couple, a mother and two children fled to the West through Communist barbed wire Sunday, a sixth person, the children's father, didn't make it.

The father fell just short of his goal, cut down by gunfire from East German border guards. He appeared seriously wounded but his exact fate was not known. He was carried off under a tarpaulin.

Their clothes and bodies ripped by the barbed wire, the 33-year-old mother, her sons, 11 and 13, and a 28-year-old man and his 21-year-old wife were hospitalized temporarily.

The escape was staged on the East German border at Kladow, an outlying district in the British sector of West Berlin.

In a separate incident at another border area, a 24-year-old East German also used the fog to good advantage as he crossed alone into West Berlin apparently unnoticed by border guards.

The mass escape was the largest to West Berlin in almost two years, but the second involving a family this month. A family of three got across safely Oct. 10.

The British commandant of Berlin, Maj. Gen. James Bowes-Lyon, issued a statement deploring shooting as "yet another reminder of the inhuman orders given to East German border guards in order to prevent the escape to freedom of their fellow citizens."

Escapes to West Berlin have been careful since the East Germans strengthened their barrier around the isolated city with moats, barbed wire, brick, electronic signal devices and a "death strip" guarded by soldiers and dogs.

West German police count 63 deaths along the wall since it was erected seven years ago, including 47 by gunfire. Persons shot down on the East German side or whose fate was undetermined are not included in that total.

Love. It's one of the hardest words in the world to define. So many shapes and shadings.

A man loves a woman, yes. Also his child, his country, his home, his job, his dog... all in different ways. And sometimes love happens, and we don't recognize that it has.

For instance. When a man involves himself in community activities such as charity drives, Boy Scouts, Little League, local politics, school board... we never call that love. We call that civic pride. Which it is, of course. But what's behind it?

Isn't this really people acting out their love of family, home, and the community that family and home are in?

We think it is. And we think it explains a long-standing tradition—why so many Bell people are so deeply involved with their communities.

A form of love.

Pass-Less Dragons Drop 12-0 Verdict To Jamestown

By DENNY BONAVIDA

The forward pass is a potent football weapon -- and Warren's failure to throw it consistently on offense and stop it on defense led to another fourth-quarter uprising and a 12-0 Jamestown victory in Saturday's renewal of the long rivalry at Memorial Field.

Jamestown's junior halfback Craig Carlson delivered the touchdown that clinched the game for the Raiders on a picture play pass reception with 6:44 gone in the final stanza, and the visitors put the icing on the cake with 1:15 to play on junior halfback Mark Wilson's four-yard plunge.

The victory was Jamestown's third against a loss and a tie, while Warren dropped below the 500 mark with its fourth loss in seven outings.

The Dragons held the edge in two statistical departments with 11 first downs to the visitors' nine and 175 rushing yards to Jamestown's 98 on the ground.

But the Raiders of coach Tony Nunes chalked up a big 136 passing yards to Warren's 23 yards on but two completions in nine attempts. And Jamestown didn't fumble, while Warren dropped the ball five times and three of those miscues ended up in Raider hands.

Penalties, a Dragon bugaboo in contests of late, did not play a decisive role in the game as Warren was called three times and Jamestown twice.

Warren's Jim Mock and

Jamestown's Wilson got plenty of punting practice as the teams kicked five times in the first half.

The Dragons penetrated to Jamestown's 29 in the middle of the first quarter, but a first-down pass from Craig Young was intercepted by Wilson on his ten to kill the scoring opportunity.

The Raiders put together a seven-play drive with the aid of a roughing the kicker penalty, but couldn't crack the Warren line. Dan Reynolds broke up a pass and stopped a sweep to force a Jamestown punt, but the penalty gave them new life on their 34. Three successive runs netted Jamestown exactly no gain and forced a punt.

Warren came alive midway in the second quarter and marched 54 yards in 14 plays to the Raiders' 25. Young threw to Tom Marti on the right sideline for 13 and Dan Krumm dove for a crucial first down near midfield. Reynolds followed his blockers through right tackle for 12 yards to the Raider 25 and a first down, but Young's handoff popped loose and Jamestown's Bernie Jones pounced on it to kill the threat and the teams were scoreless at the end of the half.

Jamestown's quarterback Carl Rizzo started finding his targets in the third quarter, and an 11-yard toss to Carlson gave them a first down on the Dragon 28. Sophomore linebacker John Bonavita blitzed successfully twice for a loss of three, and Rizzo's pass to Jim Colby on the sideline netted but ten yards. Reynolds led the defensive secondary as they stopped Carlson's rollout attempt on fourth down at the 22.

Then came Warren's biggest scoring opportunity of the day.

With 7:20 to play in the quarter, the Dragons took over at their 22. Reynolds got five on a reverse, a fumble recovered by tackle Tim Colter gained another two and, after an incomplete pass, Steve Tundel came through on a dive for the first down.

Reynolds ripped through the line for 16 yards to the 49 and Krumm pushed the ball into Raider territory on a 33-yard sweep around left end and down the sideline after a crunching block by senior Jay Goodwill. Another sweep gave Krumm two yards, and Reynolds added five through left tackle.

With a third and three on the Raiders' five, Young attempted a pitch back to Tundel which went awry and the big Dragon back was dumped for a loss of six.

was overthrown and Jamestown took over.

The Dragons quick-kicked on a fourth down midway in the fourth quarter and Jamestown took over on its 27. Two plays later they scored.

Fullback Felix Mistretta gained four off left tackle, and then Rizzo dropped back and fired a strike to Carlson, all alone at the 45. Ken Gaiser blocked Mock perfectly, and the Raider back sailed unmolested 69 yards for the touchdown. The extra point kick attempt was low.

Neither team moved the ball on the ensuing series, and, behind 6-0, on Jamestown's next punt Warren gambled with some razzle-dazzle. Sophomore Gary Vosler took the ball on his 22 and attempted a pitch to Krumm. Young lifted a fourth-down pass in Marti's direction but the ball hit as he tried it, the ball popped loose and Jamestown recovered.

Mistretta reached the Warren four on two carries and, after a stalled play, Wilson swept right end and then turned into the end zone for the final score.

Warren took to the air on the final series of downs, and Young hit the perennially-open Marti for ten up the middle. An incomplete pass and an interception by Wilson killed the attempt as the clock ran out.

Kenya's Kipchoge Keino Wins Olympic 1500 Run

By TED SMITS

Associated Press Sports Editor
MEXICO CITY (AP) — Kenya's Kipchoge Keino easily whipped Jim Ryun in the Olympic 1,500-meter run Sunday, but U.S. track and field forces came back strong with world record victories in three relay races plus a one-two finish by Dick Fosbury and Ed Caruthers in the high jump.

Diver Bernie Wrightson and three swimmers—Claude Kolb, Charles Hickcox and Debbie Meyer—then gave the U.S. four more gold medals for a Games-leading total of 24.

Wrightson, of Phoenix, Ariz., won the men's 3-meter springboard diving before Miss Kolb and Hickcox led 1-2-3 American sweeps of the women's and men's 200-meter individual medley races. Miss Meyer then paced a 1-2 U.S. finish in the women's 400-meter freestyle.

Keino's victory in the 1,500, the third gold medal for Kenya in distance running, smashed Ryun's hopes of bringing the United States its first 1,500 gold since Mel Sheppard won the race in 1908.

The Kenyan has lost to the Wichita, Kan., whiz a number of times in the past, including Saturday's semifinal heat.

But this time it was no contest as Keino won in Olympic record time of 3:34.9, finishing about 15 meters ahead of Ryun, who was clocked in 3:37.8. Bodo Thummler of West Germany was third.

But while the Americans pondered Ryun's defeat, previous gold medal winners Jim Hines, Wyoming's Tyus and Lee Evans anchored three relay teams — the men's 400-meter, the women's 400 meter and the men's 1,600 meter—to victories.

winning the marathon, the race his countryman, Abebe Bikila, had hoped to win for a third consecutive time.

Like Bikila, Ryun was disappointed in his defeat. He said he was stunned by Keino's early pace.

"I knew if Keino went very fast I would have to stay off the pace so that's what I did," he said. "I tried to pick it up with two laps to go, but I couldn't make it."

Ryun, a 21-year-old senior at the University of Kansas, had a conglomerate of problems earlier this year, including a pulled hamstring muscle and a siege of mononucleosis that added him until the end of July. But he won the 1,500 at the U.S. Olympic Trials, then finished strong in winning both of his preliminary heats here Friday and Saturday. When it came to the final though, he was no match for Keino and his running mate, Benjamin Jipcho. Jipcho set a fast early pace and when Keino took the lead with 2 1/2 laps to go, Ryun was still well behind. Ninth at the 800-meter mark, Ryun moved up to fourth on the third lap, but Keino had opened up too much of a lead even for Ryun and his famous finishing kick.

As Ryun hit the homestretch in hopeless pursuit he seemed to be breathing hard. Then, about 50 meters from the end, he looked over his shoulder to make certain he could hold second place.

Keino's time of 3:34.9 broke Herb Elliott's Games record of 3:35.6 set four years ago and is the second best time ever for the 1,500. Only Ryun's 3:37.1 is better.

Minutes later, Hines sprinted the United States back into the track spotlight. When the future American Football League player took the baton for the anchor lap of the 400 meter relay, he trailed Cuba's Enrique Figueroa by two meters.

But sheer power carried Hines, the 100-meter gold medalist, past the Cuban with about 50 meters to go, and he steadily inched ahead as he neared the finish line.

The time for Hines, Charlie Greene, Mel Pender and Ronnie Ray Smith was a world record 38.2 seconds, breaking the mark of 38.3 Jamaica set in the semi-finals Saturday. Cuba was second, France third and Jamaica fourth in the finals.

The U.S. girls also set a world record, winning their relay in 42.8.

Miss Tyus, Barbara Ferrell, Margaret Bailes and Mildrette Netter set the mark of 43.4 Saturday.

urday and then had it tied by Holland.

Miss Tyus had a comfortable lead when she took the baton for the anchor leg and opened it up in the same style she used in winning the 100-meter dash.

There was no doubt about the outcome of the 1,600 relay. Vince Matthews took a two-meter lead on the first lap and Ron Freeman increased the margin to 10 meters on the second. Then Larry James really flew and when he passed the baton to Evans, the United States had a 30-meter lead.

Fosbury, a 6-foot-4 Medford, Ore., resident, delighted the capacity stadium crowd with his backward style of jumping. But he also went through the lower heights easily, passing some and making others on his first try.

Wolde, who finished second in the 10,000-meter run, easily won the marathon, the 26-mile, 385-yard race that Bikila had taken in 1960 and 1964. When the Ethiopian finished after two hours, 20 minutes and 26.4 seconds, he did not seem to be particularly exhausted.

Bikila, who had been confident of winning again, didn't finish, dropping out after 10 1/2 miles.

Kenji Kimihara of Japan was second and Mike Ryan of New Zealand third. Ken Moore of Eugene, Ore., finished 14th while George Young of Casa Grande, Ariz., who took the bronze in the steeplechase, was 16th.

As the Games' spotlight turned toward swimming, the United States continued its dominance.

In gaining the first swimming gold medal of the day, Wrightson joined Sue Gossick of Turzana, Calif., as a diving champion. Over all, the U.S. has won the last 11 Olympic springboard titles.

A 24-year-old seaman on leave from the Navy, Wrightson came from behind with brilliant performances on the last three dives.

The swift U.S. swimmers then took command of the Olympic waters.

Miss Kolb, an 18-year-old freshman at Santa Clara University, easily eclipsed the Olympic mark of 2:23.8 she set earlier in the day in the women's 200-meter individual medley.

Her time in the final was 2:24.7, more than a second off her world mark.

Claudia took a one-meter lead on the butterfly leg, increased it to two on the backstroke and then poured it on in the breaststroke and freestyle legs.

Cassadaga Clips Knights In 4th

By DAN PRATZ

SINCLAIRVILLE, N.Y. — A blocked punt with only six minutes left in the game set the Cassadaga Valley Cougars up for their first touchdown as they went on to top the Eisenhower Knights 14-0 here Saturday afternoon under frigid skies.

The Knights and Cougars battled to an even 0-0 score for the first three periods. Both defensive squads held tight as the ball rested at midfield for most of the game.

Ike played aggressive ball and beat the Cougars on the yardsticks with their ground attack. The Knights scrambled to recover all four of Cassadaga's fumbles while only giving up one.

The Knights were able to hold the Cougars until that one break which gave Cassadaga the ball only twenty-two yards from paydirt. From there the Cougars marched into the endzone with the aid of a five yard penalty on a third and three situation.

Only nine yards away from their first score, Ike defensive player Gary Dalrymple threw quarterback Steve Wickmark for a loss and in doing so was injured and taken out of the game. On the next play the Cougars moved to the six yard line and another Ike player, Bernie Uber, was injured and left the game.

With these two top Ike defensive players out of the game, the Cougars made a strong bid and plunged to the three; on their fourth down Bob Jordan went off left tackle to leap into the endzone for the score. Jordan executed a run for the extra-point and moved Cassadaga out in front 7-0.

Following the kickoff the Knights attempted to score; however, after falling short by one yard for a first down, they were forced to punt. This time the Cougars tackled the punter, Bob Passinger, on the twenty-five and started a drive downfield that was stopped short as Bart Lohnes recovered a Cougar fumble on the four yard line.

Starting back upfield with only one minute left in the game Ike was able to move as far as the twenty-one.

Kane's Bob Geer Sparks Triumph

ST. MARYS — Kane's Bob Geer scored 13 points and the Kane defensive unit made them count as the Wolves defeated Elk County Christian 13-0 Saturday afternoon.

Defense dominated the first two quarters of action the two teams battled through the entire half without getting on the scoreboard. Late in the third period the Wolves finally broke the ice when Geer burst through the Crusaders' offensive line, intercepted a lateral, and went sixteen yards for the score.

In the fourth quarter Geer again hit paydirt when he climaxed a 60 yard drive by grabbing a six-yard pass from Kane quarterback Tom Danielson. Geer then put the final tally on the scoreboard when he ran for the extra point. Elk County Christian 0-0-0-0 Kane 0-0-6-7-13

Tokyo Takes Series

TOKYO (AP) — The Tokyo Yomiuri Giants, Central League champions, captured the Japan Series Sunday by defeating the Yankyu Braves, Pacific League champions of Osaka, 7-5.

The victory gave the Japanese version of the World Series to Yomiuri 4-2.

Jamie Nesmith went to the air but was unable to find an available receiver.

On the fourth down with only 30 seconds left to play Nesmith faded back to pass but one Cougar crashed through the line to nail Nesmith on the nine yard line as Cassadaga took over.

Jordan carried with only 16 seconds left in the game to the two yard line on a seven yard plunge around the left end. On the next play quarterback Wickmark plowed through the line to be held one foot short of the TD.

With it fourth down and one foot to go for their second score and only five seconds left in the game, Jordan hurled his body over the Cougar and Knight lines and fell into the endzone.

For the extra-point Dave Kelley ran around the right end to give the Cougars the 14-0 victory.

This was the second loss for Ike in the final minutes with the decision coming on a break for the opposition. This Saturday the Knights host Forestville in their second home game of the season.

Cleveland, Kansas City Post Pro Football Upsets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cleveland Browns turned three Johnny Unitas interceptions into 17 points to hand Baltimore its first loss of the National Football League season 30-20, while the unbeaten Los Angeles Rams broke a first place tie with the Colts by defeating stubborn Atlanta 27-14.

Oakland, the defending champion in the American Football League, also was upset, 24-10 by Kansas City, and dropped into third place behind Kansas City and San Diego in the Western Division. San Diego held second by trouncing Denver 55-24.

Cleveland ruined Unitas' first real test of his sore arm. Of 12 passes thrown, he completed nine. The Browns, 3-3, moved to two touchdowns and a field goal after the interceptions.

In other NFL action, Dallas defeated Minnesota 20-7 to remain unbeaten and move two games ahead of New York in the Capitol Division as San Francisco downed New York 26-10. Green Bay and Detroit tied 14-14. St. Louis mauled Washington 41-14. New Orleans edged Pittsburgh 16-12, and Chicago overpowered Philadelphia 29-16. In the AFL, New York tripped Houston 20-14 to remain in first place in the Eastern Division, Miami nipped Cincinnati 24-22 and Boston walloped last place Buffalo 23-6.

Los Angeles rallied behind the passing of Roman Gabriel to beat the Falcons after underdog Atlanta capitalized on errors for a 14-0 lead.

The Rams came back with 17 points in the second quarter as Gabriel threw touchdown passes of 16 yards to Bill Truax and six to Pat Studstill and Bruce Gossett contributed a 35-yard field goal.

The victory put the Rams' record at 6-0 and ran their string of consecutive league game triumphs to 14, longest of the NFL's post-World War II years.

Kansas City relied on power football, attempting only three passes in surprising Oakland. Wendell Hayes scored two touchdowns for the Chiefs, who built a 24-0 lead. The Chiefs' 6-1, one-half game ahead of San Diego, 5-6 while Oakland fell to 4-2.

San Diego quarterback John Hadl passed for four touchdowns in the Chargers' rout, completing 18 passes for 321 yards before leaving early in the third period.

Dallas, 6-0, trailing 7-6 at the half, turned a fumble and an in-

Coach Hart Says Pitt Played Well

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Coach Dave Hart said Sunday with the number of injuries and with several boys playing both ways the Pitt Panthers played their best game to date against Navy. "We played well enough to win," Hart said, "but a few costly mistakes took it right from our grasp."

With three minutes to play the Panthers moved the ball right down the field at Annapolis. But a field goal attempt from the 11 "went off the side of my foot," claimed sophomore Joe Spicko.

And the Panthers have again succumbed to the Middies Saturday by one point. Last year it was 22-21; this year it was 17-16.

ception into touchdowns and knocked the Vikings 3-3, out of a first place tie with Detroit in the Central Division.

John Brodie picked the Giants apart with his passing while Gary Lewis and Ken Willard rumbled for chunks of yardage in the 49ers' upset.

In Detroit, ailing Bart Starr came off the bench for one play and passed for a touchdown to give Green Bay a tie with the Lions after Detroit took a 14-0 half-time lead on scoring passes of 60 and 11 yards from Bill Munson to Earl McCullough.

Roy Shivers, a speedy substitute halfback, zipped 42 yards for a touchdown to ignite a 21-point second period for St. Louis and Jim Hart threw two touchdown passes and scored one himself.

New Orleans stopped the winless Steelers four straight times within the five-yard line in the closing minutes and Charlie Durkee kicked three field goals.

Mac Percival kicked five field goals and Roosevelt Taylor scored a touchdown on a 96-yard pass interception for Chicago.

Four consecutive pass completions by Joe Namath drove the Jets to a winning touchdown with 48 seconds left. Matt Snell and Namath scored a touchdown apiece earlier for the Jets.

Bob Griese connected for three touchdown passes for Miami, but the Bengals came within a whisker of tying it when Dewey Warren hit Bob Trumphy on a 44-yard touchdown pass with 1:46 remaining. Cincinnati failed on the two-point conversion attempt.

Mike Talliaferro fired a pair of scoring passes to Jim Whelan and Gino Cappelletti booted three field goals, leading the Patriots over hapless Buffalo.

North Carolina Surprises Florida; USC Just Wins

By SHEILA MORAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Southern California, Ohio State and Purdue had close calls with unranked opponents Saturday while Florida was stunned by North Carolina in a major upset among the nation's top ten college football teams.

O.J. Simpson dashed nine yards for a touchdown to cap top-ranked Southern Cal's 99-yard fourth quarter drive and give the unbeaten Trojans a 14-7 victory over a determined band of Washington Huskies. Simpson, who gained a total 57 yards on the winning drive, also scored the Trojans' first touchdown when he smashed one yard in the first quarter.

Second-ranked Ohio State beat Northwestern 45-21 but the unbeaten Buckeyes couldn't shake the winless Wildcats until a fourth-quarter explosion netted three touchdowns. State's scrambling quarterback Rex Kern passed for two fourth quarter touchdowns and scored another on a seven-yard run.

Purdue came closest to joining Florida and Arkansas, beaten by Texas, as an upset victim.

The fifth-ranked Bollermakers trailed winless Wake Forest until the last seven minutes but squeaked through 28-27 when all-American halfback Leroy Keyes sparked a two touchdown drive. Keyes, redeeming himself after losing the ball four times on fumbles, knifed through the Deacons' two yards for a touchdown in the last two minutes.

Mike Phipps set up another Purdue touchdown with a 27-yard pass to Keyes, and Jim Kirkpatrick ran the last 14 yards.

Florida fumbles paid off for North Carolina which stunned the seventh-ranked Gators 22-7 and dealt them their first loss in five outings. Florida lost eight of 11 fumbles. John Hardig kicked three field goals for the Tar Heels.

Texas' awesome running attack knocked ninth-ranked Arkansas from the unbeaten list 39-29 in the Razorbacks' worst pounding by the Longhorns since 1961, and shoved Arkansas out of the Southwest Conference lead.

The Longhorns, tied for 17th nationally, dominated the game so completely that it was 39-15 when Texas Coach Darrell Royal pulled his first string backfield early in the fourth quarter. Texas blazed behind the running of Chris Gilbert, Steve Worster and Ted Koy and a long touchdown pass from quarterback James Street to Charles Speyer.

Elsewhere in the Top Ten, fourth-ranked Kansas routed Oklahoma State 49-14, sixth-ranked Notre Dame dispensed with Illinois 58-8, eighth-ranked Tennessee edged Alabama 10-9 and ninth-ranked Georgia smashed Vanderbilt 32-6. Third-ranked Penn State had an open date.

In the Second Ten, Missouri, tied for 20th, upset 13th-ranked Nebraska 16-14. Seventeenth-ranked Michigan beat 10th-ranked Indiana 27-22 in a key Big Ten game and 14th-ranked Stanford ended in a 21-21 tie.

Chi Chi Zooms Into Sahara Pot

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Dynamic little Juan "Chi Chi" Rodriguez climaxed a spectacular final round of golf Sunday when he defeated Dale Douglass on the first hole of a sudden death playoff in the Sahara Invitational Golf Tournament.

The 32-year-old 125-pounder from Dorado Beach, Puerto Rico, came from practically nowhere to gain the tie with a sensational seven-under-par 31-33 — 64, as Douglass, the leader going into the final day of fireworks, took a 70.

Their 72-hole scores of 274 was 10 strokes under par for the Paradise Valley Country Club's par 36-35-71.

Chi Chi picked up the $20,000 first money of the $100,000 purse in quick fashion on the 417 yard par four first hole. He got his par and Douglass, from Denver, Colo., missed a 24-inch putt for a bogey. He got second money at $12,000.

It was a sad blow for Douglass, also 32. He had led or shared the lead from the start of the tournament.

Victims of Rodriguez' first victory since the 1967 Texas Open included the current U.S. Open champion, Lee Trevino, Jack Nicklaus, Billy Casper and Julius Boros, all former National Open kings.

Casper, who was tied with Nicklaus one shot back of Douglass at the start of this sunny day, had a 70 for 275 and a tie with Trevino, 67; George Archer, 64; and rookie Ron Carrudo, 69.

Boros, 69; Howie Johnson, 67; and Kermit Zarley, 70, tied at 276.

Nicklaus' 74 gave him 279. Big Jack won the Sahara in 1963 and repeated in 1966-67.

Casper caught Douglass on the fifth hole and passed him on the seventh. Playing ahead, however, was Chi Chi, who was beginning to rumble. He bagged five birdies on the first nine holes.

"I got my confidence back," said the happy little warrior, "when Arnie Palmer's caddy asked to caddy for me."

Cokes Defends His Title Against La Cruz Tonight

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — World welterweight champion Curtis Cokes, an educated puncher with a butterfly-quick fists, makes his fifth title defense here Monday night when he takes on burly Ramon La Cruz in a 15-round championship bout.

La Cruz, 29, compact and explosive at 5-foot-6½, has knocked out more opponents than Cokes has won fights. His best weapon is a left hook to the liver.

Cokes, at 5-9½, enjoys better than a three-inch reach advantage over La Cruz, known as "El Matador" in his Argentine homeland.

"La Cruz says he'll put the pressure on Curtis," said Cokes' trainer, Tiger Reed, last week after a workout. "Good. He'll be got. Curtis is a thinking fighter—he's thinking while he's doing it," said Reed.

The 31-year-old champion, who says he plans to retire in 1970 but would first like a shot at the middleweight crown, contends he has no set strategy for the fight. But it will be surprising if he doesn't use his superior reach to keep La Cruz at bay while scoring from outside.

Cokes, of Dallas, Tex., captured the welterweight title when he won a World Boxing Association elimination tournament held after Emilio Griffin vacated the crown to become a middleweight contender.

Scoring a 15-round knockout over Luis Rodriguez in New Orleans in July, 1966, Cokes bounded into the finals, and a month later won a 15-round decision over Manny Gonzales to become champion.

A polished counter-puncher who can overwhelm an opponent in a flurry of brash precision punches, Cokes has a 53-9-3 record.

Cleveland Stuns Colts With Steals

BALTIMORE (AP) — The aggressive Cleveland Browns intercepted three passes by quarterback Johnny Unitas and turned them into two decisive touchdowns and a field goal Sunday to stun the Baltimore Colts with their first defeat in six games, 30-20.

The Browns, winning only their third National Football League game, thoroughly routed the first real competitive tryout this season by Unitas of his sore arm. Of 12 passes, he completed only one on screen behind the line of scrimmage and others were off the mark.

When Unitas started the second half with the Colts trailing 14-7, the crowd of 60,238 came alive with a roar.

When he left early in the fourth quarter, Cleveland had stretched its lead to 30-13 and some fans were booing.

Mike Howell intercepted the first pass thrown by Unitas and returned it to the Colts 35. Cleveland scored eight plays later on a two-yard pass from quarterback Bill Nelsen to Eppie Barney.

At the start of the last quarter, Bob Matheson, Browns line-backer, stole another Unitas' aerial and took it 30 yards to the Colts four. Leroy Kelly ran it in from there for his second touchdown.

On the second play after the kickoff, Bill Glass intercepted another Unitas' attempt and Unlike other wagons, ours has an aisle from the front seat to the back seat.

So once inside, you don't have to go outside to get from one end to the other.

600 Attend Testimonial for State VFW Commander Eugene Manfrey

COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF ARRIVES

Events scheduled for Eugene R. Manfrey Day in Warren Saturday, started when Rich Homan, National Commander-in-Chief, Veterans of Foreign Wars, arrived at the Jamestown, N.Y., airport, making his first stop at Jamestown TV Station, WKSN. Homan was greeted by, from left, William Karns, Warren County Director, Saturday was Eugene R. Manfrey Day in Warren as some 600 persons, including the National Commander-in-Chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, assembled for a testimonial dinner and dance honoring the local man.

Manfrey was elected VFW Department Commander of Pennsylvania July 13 and the respect held for him by his fellow VFW officials, members and friends was evidenced Saturday in remarks made by many distinguished guests.

Commander-in-Chief Homan referred to Manfrey as a great commander of the Department of Pennsylvania and a "great American." He noted the honored guest, upon returning from service in the Korean conflict, took an immediate interest in his community, was concerned for his country, his fellow servicemen and the security of the nation.

Manfrey's first VFW assignment, Homan stated, might have seemed insignificant but he made "big things out of little things -- kept stepping up -- serving the county -- the district -- and now the state."

Homan, who has been in Vietnam and who plans to go back, said American servicemen there are "the greatest group of young men ever called upon to service this country in any war." He said they are fighting men and missionaries, carpenters and builders -- adding there is nothing these men are not willing to do to help South Vietnam.

Veterans Affairs; Charles Pearson, Past Seam Squire, and Manfrey, VFW Department Commander of Pennsylvania. The group was escorted through Jamestown by city police there and brought briskly to Warren by Deputy Sheriff James C. Peterson.

The commander urged that youth of the nation become involved in the patriotic efforts of the VFW.

He also suggested that men from all wars and ranks, who know what is right and what is wrong should get together and express their views.

Homan praised the father of Eugene Manfrey, Frank Manfrey of Warren, who served in World War I and was willing to risk sacrificing each of his five sons who served after him in various conflicts, because of his belief in this nation.

One of the highlights of the testimonial affair was the presentation of the VFW Silver Medal of Merit and citation to Congressman Albert W. Johnson, in recognition of his outstanding leadership in improving conditions for the veterans of Pennsylvania, both as a state legislator and member of the U. S. House of Representatives.

Manfrey expressed gratitude on behalf of his family, many of whom had traveled many miles to be on hand Saturday, and himself, stating he would try to do what is right for the organization he believes in -- the VFW.

The department commander reminded that on November 5 it was a citizen's duty to vote. "Voting," he said, "is not a right -- men have fought for the privilege to vote." He urged full support of the Vietnam bonus, which he stated is not a bonus but a compensation.

Manfrey continued by stating, "it is our job to support our fighting men no matter where they are -- once they were committed by our commander-in-chief, the president of the United States."

The speaker concluded by advising he had searched every dictionary -- every possible book -- to come up with the right message that might inspire the children of today and tomorrow -- that might in some way bring a solution to the current problems faced by the nation. "There is only one word," Manfrey said, "that can eventually result in a good world -- RESPECT -- respect for families, for others, for God and Country and respect for the Flag. Only respect will bring about a good America."

Frank Hilton, past department and national VFW commander, served as toastmaster

SHARE HONORS

The National Commander-in-Chief, Veterans of Foreign Wars, left, and Department Commander of Pennsylvania, Eugene R. Manfrey, shared honors Saturday at a testimonial dinner and dance for the latter. Both urged voters' support Nov. 5 for the proposed Vietnam bonus for men who are serving or have served in the South East Asia conflict. Many messages were received including a telegram from Col. Frank McKetta, commissioner, Pennsylvania State Police, extending best wishes and continued success to the honored guests.

SURPRISE PRESENTATION

One of the highlights of Eugene R. Manfrey Day Saturday was the surprise presentation of the VFW Silver Medal of Merit and Certificate to Congressman Albert W. Johnson (R-Pa.), in recognition of his outstanding leadership in improving conditions for veterans of Pennsylvania, both as a state legislator and member of the U. S. House of Representatives. "This is one of the greatest moments of my life," Johnson said.

Also introduced was Mrs. Eugene Manfrey and their two oldest children, Barbara, 13 and Kathy, 11. Mike, 5, and the couple's three-year-old twins remained at home.

Following the dinner and program at Beatty school cafeteria, dancing was enjoyed at K. of C. Hall.

Democratic Candidate for Assembly Names Donnelly Campaign Manager

Robert L. Holmes, Democratic candidate for the Assembly, announced today the appointment of Thomas J. Donnelly as his campaign chairman.

Donnelly, who is a Warren County Commissioner, is a former member of the State legislature. He was considered one of the more personable legislators and had won respect from both sides of the political aisle.

"Robert L. Holmes certainly acquired valuable experience as a result of his two years employment with the legislature while I was an Assemblyman," Donnelly stated. "More important, Bob not only represents youth, his deep seated interest in outdoor affairs is a matter of record. Warren-Forest county out-of-doors potential is considered by knowledgeable sportsmen and writers as one of the finest in the East."

"On the local level, we are expanding much time, effort, and publicity to promote this valuable asset," he continued. "With this fast undertaking in mind and widespread public approval, Warren-Forest county needs an able experienced sportsman as its representative in the General Assembly."

Candidate Holmes was most enthusiastic with the introduction of Commissioner Donnelly as an active supporter in his behalf.

The candidate is counting heavily upon the thousands of sportsmen in the area Nov. 5 for his support and victory.

READY FOR THE COUNTDOWN

Thomas J. Donnelly, left, a former member of the State Legislature, has been named campaign chairman for Robert L. Holmes, right, who hopes to win the seat presently held by Republican William Allen.

State Democrats Reveal Plan For Legislative Action

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Democratic leadership in the state House of Representatives has revealed what it plans to do if they gain control of the lower chamber in the General Assembly.

Their program, which they call "Now," embraces 48 proposed legislative measures which they would hope to introduce and pass when the legislature reconvenes in January for a fresh session.

The proposals, announced Sunday fall in 12 categories: law and order, senior citizens, labor, reforms within state government, higher education, basic education, consumer protection, jobs, housing, human rights, public employees and "fiscal matters."

The program was devised by Rep. Herbert Fineman, Philadelphia House minority leader, K. Leroy Irvis, Pittsburgh, the Democratic whip; James F. Prendergast, Easton, the caucus chairman; and Joseph C. Wargo, Olyphant, the caucus secretary.

"This is no 'pie in the sky' program of utopian promises," said Fineman in commenting on the blueprint. "Rather it is a pragmatic program that can -- and should be -- enacted immediately."

Among the highlights of the "Now Program," which Fineman said would cost $113.1 million, are $32 million in "categorical aid" for large school districts; $5 million in increased subsidies for private nursing homes; and $20 million for state wide expansion of the pre-school program.

Fineman said the cost of the package would be born by $126 million in new tax revenues obtained "through closing up loopholes in the state sales tax."

Currently, Republicans outnumber Democrats in the House 104 to 92.

In the past few weeks Fineman and the Democratic leadership have been pressing a hard publicity campaign against Gov. Shatter's administration. Sunday's statement, however, was the first time the minority party served notice of its confidence in winning.

As a leader in the formation of the Corry school district, Vaughn has been an active member of its board of directors and served as president for 10 years.

Collapse of Wall Sets Off Explosions

BRIDGETON, Pa. (AP) — The collapse of part of the wall of a blast furnace at a steel plant near Bridgeton set off about 50 small explosions Saturday night, but 45 men working in the building escaped harm.

Officials said the explosions at the Rainey Wood Coke Co. plant were caused when Molten metal came in contact with water on the floor of the plant. The blasts were heard over a wide area.

Painesville, Ohio, Hunter Found Dead Near Sheffield

MARIENVILLE — Matthew Edwin McShane, 58, of 172 Tinker ave., Painesville, Ohio, prominent in Masonic Circles, was found shot to death in woods near Sheffield early Sunday morning.

McShane's body was found about 3 a.m. Sunday by Victor Weisenstein of 105 Hazlett ave., Butler, a member of the McShane hunting party.

The body was found in Howe Township, Forest County, around 15 miles south of Sheffield, Deputy Coroner John N. Rees, Tionesta, conducted preliminary investigation at the scene of the accident. Death was attributed to shock, acute hemorrhage, hemorrhaging and exposure.

GI in Vietnam Earns Bronze Star

Sgt. Kenneth C. Wagner, formerly of Clarendon, Pa., has been awarded the Bronze Star with the V Device for Valor. The award was presented for his action while on patrol Sept. 3, 1968, in Vietnam. He is assigned to the Fifth Special Forces, Green Beret, and has been in Vietnam for five months.

Policeman Kills Fleeing Youth

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A policeman, pursuing a young Negro who fled from a speeding car, shot and killed the youth Saturday night in a chase in West Philadelphia after he was stabbed with a knife.

The victim of the scuffle was Donald Hawkins. The chase went through streets, an alley, a home.

Police Commissioner Frank L. Rizzo said Patrolman Robert Ahern, 29, was stabbed in the back with a 13-inch butcher knife that barely missed his kidney and spine. Ahern is in Misericordia Hospital.

Rizzo said Ahern, though stabbed, pursued Hawkins and shot six times, hitting the youth twice.

Manfrey, from "the little town of Warren," and elected as Department Commander, Veterans of Foreign Wars of Pennsylvania, was honored Saturday at a testimonial affair which found some 600 persons paying tribute to his excellent leadership. In his brief address, Manfrey stressed that only respect for the family, others, God, Country and the Flag, instilled in today's children and those of tomorrow, will result in a "good America." ## Cleeton Charges Johnson With Error in Judgment

In a number of speeches in the Northwest area of the 23rd Congressional District, Alan Cleeton, Democratic candidate for United States Congress, has charged the incumbent Congressman Albert Johnson with another "error in judgment."

Commenting upon the fact that Johnson had excluded the upper reaches of the Allegheny and the west branch of the Susquehanna Rivers from the wild and scenic rivers bill recently signed into law by President Lyndon Johnson, Cleeton said, "It is just one more mistake that he (Johnson) has made in regard to the overall planning for recreation and leisure facilities in Northern Pennsylvania."

Congressman Johnson reported that the Allegheny from East Brady to the Kinzua Dam had been deleted from the bill to allow for the possible construction of a canal between the upper Allegheny and Lake Erie.

Such a canal, according to Cleeton, has been contemplated by the Allegheny Valley Improvement Association for more than 70 years. And since it would go up French Creek from Franklin with some 23 to 27 locks and stages to overcome the elevation to lake Erie, its commercial use would be somewhat limited.

"Anyone who has taken the time to observe river barge traffic knows that the lock staging of barges is a slow and tedious process. Such a canal would have some industrial value," Cleeton observed, "but it would be more likely used by sportsmen and boat enthusiasts on a 'circle tour'."

"For more than 40 years," Cleeton said, "there has been talk of river barge traffic up the Allegheny to Warren. Such a development would require massive dredging of a channel

Stock Clerk Faces Murder Charge

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — Police said a 22-year-old stock clerk at Scranton's largest department store has been charged with murder in the knife-slashing of a girl employee after an argument breaking a date.

Detective Capt. James McDonnell said David Evans is accused of stabbing Debbie McLaughlin, 19, nine times Saturday with a five-inch switch blade knife while the girl was at work in the basement of the Globe Store.

The attack occurred just before noon, Miss McLaughlin died about three hours later in a hospital.

Police said Evans was seized after a short chase by a witness to the stabbing and a policeman on duty near by.

Argument Over Game Ends In Death

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — An argument over a dice game early Sunday ended with Leon Johnson, 40, shot to death and 16-year-old Dwight Griffin charged with first-degree manslaughter, police said.

They said Johnson and Griffin, both of Buffalo, argued in Johnson's garage-apartment,

HELP IS NEEDED: YOU ARE WANTED! Where, and by whom? This SOS has come from the Hospitality Shop at Warren General Hospital, one of the services operated by the hospital's Auxiliary for the convenience of patients, patients' families, hospital personnel, and, believe it or not, for some of the general public who have a fondness for the delicious foods and snacks served so quickly and efficiently in the cheerful atmosphere of the shop. . . . For newcomers to town, I can't think of a better way to really get to know people, or, to establish oneself as one who really wants to contribute to the good of the community. . . . No invitations to join are necessary. Maybe you're not a newcomer to town, maybe you've lived here for umpteen years, but perhaps you have some time to offer because now all your children are in school all day long; or, perhaps they're off to college and you find you have the time to do the good works you used to think of doing "some day."

Whatever it is, you are not only welcome to become a Hospitality Shop worker, you are wanted and needed! Just call the reception desk at the hospital, 723-3300, and Mrs. Richard Meacham, who is there every day from 9:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m., will be glad to schedule you as a volunteer. . . . In case you still have doubts, all you have to do is serve once a month and pick the hours that suit you best. . . . 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.; 1 to 5 p. m.; or, 5 to 8 p. m. . . . The duties of a Hospitality Shop volunteer are only: Taking orders, serving food, clearing tables, tallying up checks, accepting payment and making change for patrons. An automatic dishwasher takes care of that part of the business, and, a paid sandwich maker is there to fill orders. . . . The Hospitality Shop was started many years ago and has proved to be one of the most successful of the services offered by the WGH Auxiliary. Its profits go into the Auxiliary's treasury for use in buying necessary equipment for the hospital. One such piece of equipment was a cardiac machine!

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am getting sick and tired of reading letters from wives complaining about their husbands' snoring. My husband snores — loud, long and every night. So what? He is one of the best human beings the good Lord ever put on this earth.

When the snoring starts and my sleep is interrupted, I lie quietly and watch him get his badly needed rest. When I read that some women tie their husbands' jaws shut with silk stockings and strap bicycle horns to their heads, I get so mad I could scream.

Every night I thank God that this wonderful man is in OUR bed snoring. We have been married 10 years and I hope the good Lord gives us 10 more. — CONTENTED

DEAR CON: What a lovely letter! But while you're asking — ask for 40 more, not 10, dummy!

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Two years ago I wrote for advice. You said, "See a psychiatrist." I took your advice and it was the most difficult thing I've ever done in my life. But it was the smartest. I can't understand why a person would be ashamed to admit he has a problem he can't handle. Does a patient have to be dying before he goes to a doctor? Why then should he wait till he's ready for a straitjacket before he sees a psychiatrist?

Please, Ann, continue to urge your readers to stop wasting their lives, especially the young. Psychiatry can open doors to peace of mind and contentment. It can conquer fear and guilt and self hate. It can also overcome physical complaints and fatigue and depression.

I am very poor at expressing myself but I wanted to try. Thanks for reading this. — NANCY

DEAR NANCY: I shall continue to urge people to get professional help, although I am well aware that not all patients obtain the glowing results you describe. And if you were able to achieve the miracle with your original therapist you are fortunate.

Therapy can be magic for some and Nothingsville for others. I recommend professional help for individuals who are depressed, destructive, or in continual conflict with themselves and others. Therapy that produces even modest results beats walking around frightened, guilty, mad at the world and plagued by "undiagnosed" aches and pains.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a homosexual who has had psychiatric help and I'm as well adjusted as I will ever be. A few weeks ago I was turned down for military service. I told the truth and presented medical documentation.

Now people are beginning to ask why I have not been called up by my draft board. I've been saying, "I have a bad back," but I'm a poor liar. It shows on my face. What should I say? — STUCK FOR AN ANSWER

DEAR STUCK: Tell them the truth. Nobody will believe it. If a few clouds persist in pressing for an answer, say, "Seriously, I've tried but they don't want me."

If you have trouble getting along with your parents . . . if you can't get them to let you live your own life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How to Get More Freedom." Send 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Spacher-Huselton Wedding Solemnized In Wausau, Wisc.

The recent marriage of Barbara Ann Spacher and Sgt. Joel Glen Huselton, both of the U.S. Air Force, took place in St. Anne's Church in Wausau, Wisconsin, where a Nuptial Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father David Funk.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Spacher of Wausau, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Betty Jean Huselton of Largo, Florida, and the late Charles Glen Huselton Jr. He is also the grandson of Mrs. Beulah Crider of East Hickory. The Huseltons are former residents of Youngsville.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, appeared in a gown of slipper satin with long sleeves and a full length train secured by a bow. Insertions of lace embroidered with seed pearls enhanced her ensemble. Her elbow length veil was secured by a petal headband trimmed with pearls and tear-drop crystals and she carried a bouquet of large and miniature white carnations centered with a white jasmintine orchid.

The maid of honor, Miss Lou Ann Langlois, was attired in a full length copper velvet gown and wore a halo of flowers. Similarly attired, but in gold, were the bridesmaids, Mrs. Greg Spacher, sister-in-law of the bride and A-1c Ann Ross of Westover Air Force Base, Mass.; Miss Judy Schneebarger was the junior bridesmaid. Their headresses were velvet bows and netting. They carried bronze and gold pompons, jack straw, wheat and foliage. A-1c Ted Brady of Westover AFB was the best man, and three brothers of the bride, Greg Spacher, Barry Spacher and Jim Spacher were groomsmen, usher and ringbearer, respectively, with her cousin, Alan Cooper, also serving as an usher.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Spacher wore a blue costume with matching feather hat. The mother of the groom, Mrs. Huselton, was in rose with a white feather hat. Both had corsages of orchids.

A reception dinner and dance followed the ceremony in the American Legion clubhouse. The rehearsal dinner was given by the mother of the groom at the Town House Supper Club.

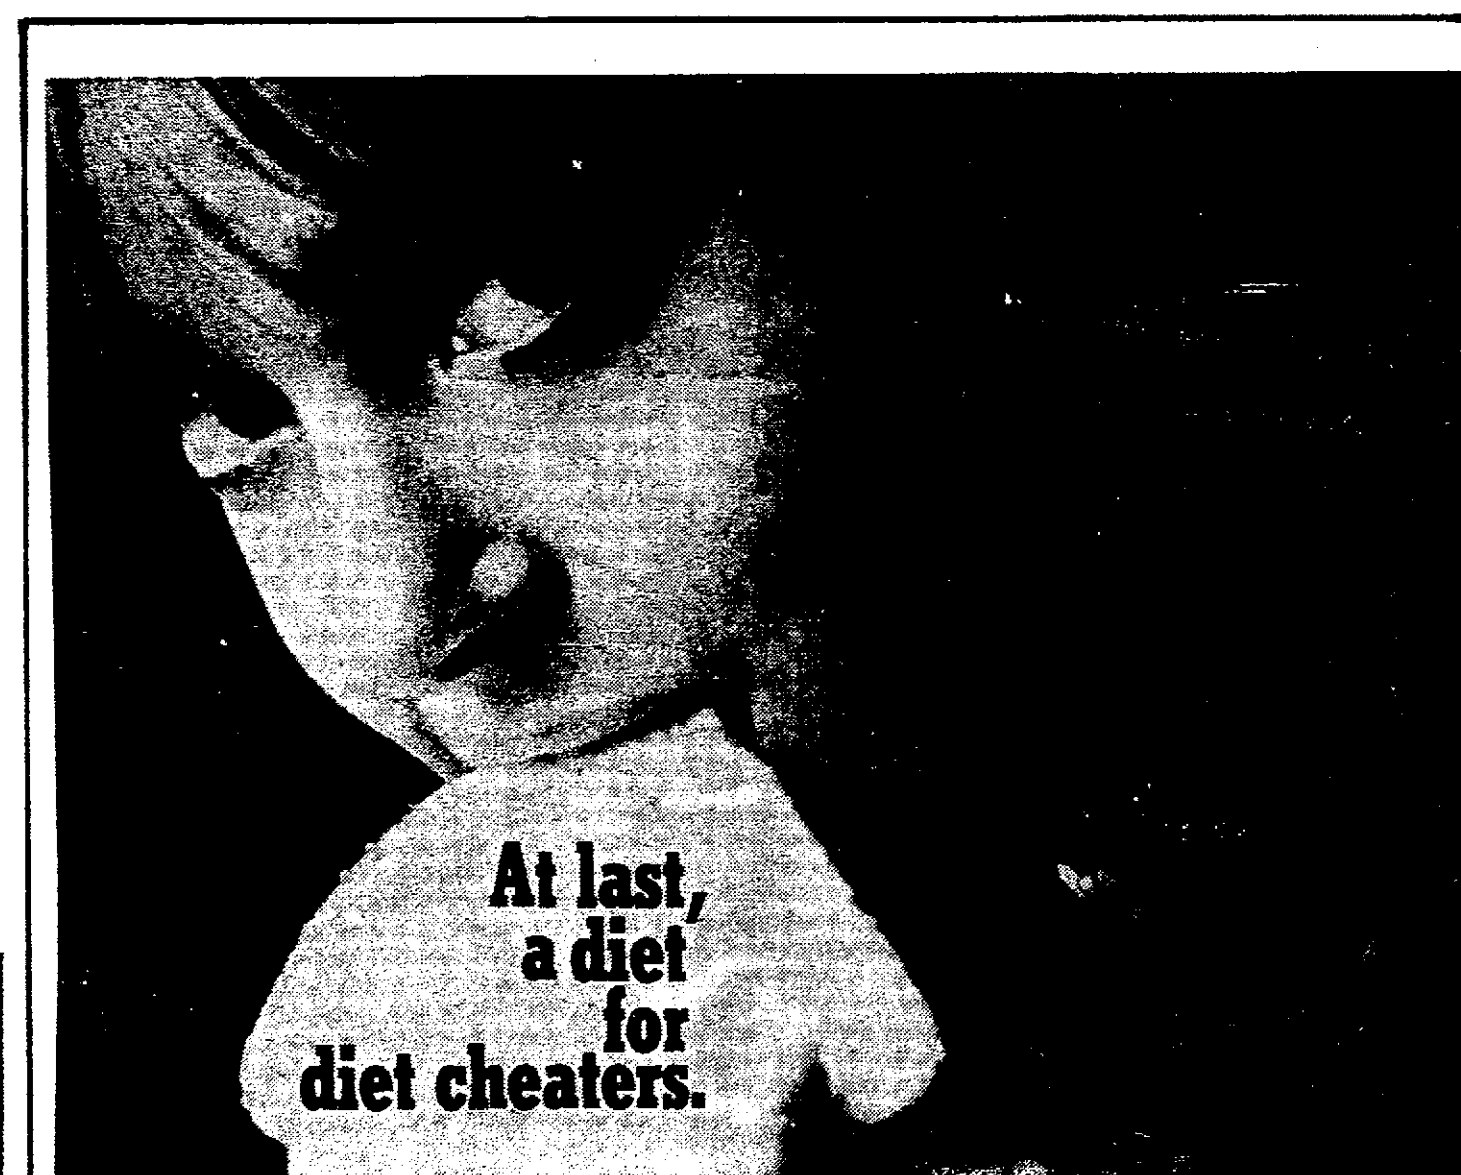

The new Mrs. Huselton is a graduate of Newman High School in Wausau and is serving in the U.S. Air Force with the rank of A-1c. Sgt. Huselton attended Youngsville schools and graduated from Saegertown High School in 1965. Both are stationed at Westover Air Force Base in Massachusetts. The couple now reside at The Town House Apartments, 31 Theouax drive, Apt. 5L, Fairview, Mass.

WSCS October Meeting Held At Grace Church

Following several piano selections offered by Mrs. Robert Young, the Women's Society of Christian Service of Grace United Methodist Church gathered for their business meeting in Fellowship Hall of the church for the October meeting. "Compassion" was the theme chosen by Mrs. John Huston for devotions. Several Sugar Grove guests were welcomed by Mrs. Raymond Rapp, president.

A charter meeting will be conducted in November, after the United Council of Churches holds its meeting on November 1 at the First Presbyterian Church. Speaker for the council meeting will be Mrs. Walter Mathyer.

On Friday of this week, October 25, in Johnsonburg, the Rev. Dr. Stanley Thoburne will speak at 1 p.m. at the United Methodist Church.

Members were informed also that a collection is still being made of good used lightweight clothing for all ages, and light blankets. A film strip "Oxcart To The Moon" was shown at the meeting, illustrating the rapid social changes being effected in Southeast Asia.

The Sager Brown Circle hosted the social hour, with Mrs. James Bonnell and Mrs. Raymond Morrison the co-chairmen.

Hints From Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:
What is the best way for a newly blinded person to pour a cup of coffee without burning oneself or spilling it all in the saucer?

Sightless

Dear Doll:
I blindfolded myself one day and here's what I learned after trying it.

If you will set the coffee cup in your sink, NOT in the saucer, fill it up with the coffee (you can hear this because it changes noises), set the coffee pot back on the stove, feel for the handle of the cup and tip it slightly to pour out the excess, then set it in the saucer, you'll find this is a safe way.

If you are using instant coffee, I learned to take the coffee cup, hold it under the cold water faucet, fill it up (you can hear when it is spilling over), turn off the faucet, tip the cup so the excess water will pour out, then pour this in your pan and heat it. I call this "no spills really."

Bless you always, kiddo. Sure glad you have a daughter and a husband who can read for you and that you know I'm here to help.

Heloise
P. S. I don't read braille, but a nice volunteer who works for the blind read your letter to me.

DEAR HELOISE:

I have an excellent idea for carrying a straw in my school lunch.

Well, all you have to do is cut an ordinary paper straw in half and lay it in the sack. In that way you can carry it without it sticking out of the bag and bending. And it fits just dandy in my milk carton.

Janice Casler
Age 13

DEAR HELOISE:

Last Halloween our children collected more candy than they could eat. So I bought red nylon net, cut it into stockings and filled them with this candy.

Then at Christmas I gave them to a school whose children don't have very much.

Thought some of the other readers could do this and bring happiness to the children who are less fortunate.

Mrs. Evers

DEAR HELOISE:

A little tub and tile caulk put around all your water pipes that come through the floors and walls helps to seal the openings around the pipes.

This sure helps to keep out unwanted insects.

Mrs. U. Turner

Fund Raising PTA Projects Discussed At Pine Grove

At the meeting of the Pine Grove PTA attended by eighty members, Harvey Sanden, in the absence of chairman of finance, Henry Grieb, discussed various projects for raising funds to pay for a copy machine for the school. Three such ventures suggested were a book fair, sale of sweatshirts, and a supper for the public. Those present voted to purchase the piece of equipment at the discretion of the Russell school administration.

Five Remaining Sessions For Youth Club

Five sessions remain for the North Warren Youth Club of the United Presbyterian Church. Plans for Christmas have already been completed and rehearsals are in progress under the direction of Miss Karen Hogue.

Those not involved with Mrs. Donald Rudolph of Crafts in making Crismos to decorate a tree for the church sanctuary at Christmas, on Wednesday took part in a class making pine cone wreaths, under the guidance of Charles Hughes.

A special program was enjoyed by Al Fox, cartoonist, who entertained with the help of participating students.

The Rev. Nelson Beck and interested laymen teach the courses of Bible studies known as the "Logos Studies" from the Beulah Presbyterian Church in Pittsburgh, where the publication offices are located.

Assisting last week, in addition to the regular staff, were Mrs. Nelson Beck, Mrs. Richard Lahn, Mrs. Franklin Brown, Mrs. Donald Anderson, Mrs. John Berkebile, Mrs. Franklin Hagberg, Mrs. John Weber, Walter Hubickey, Celia Ash, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bathurst, David Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Peterson and Mrs. Robert Gustafson.

Students assisting table leaders were Marian Anderson, Cindy Kohler, Janet Steadman, Chris Anderson, Harvey Nelson, Edith Ebel, Marianne Carlson, Charles Allen, David Peace, Anne Mahan, Kay Dillenkofer, Larry Nelson, Tim Reynolds, Nan Hoffman and Connie Gerard.

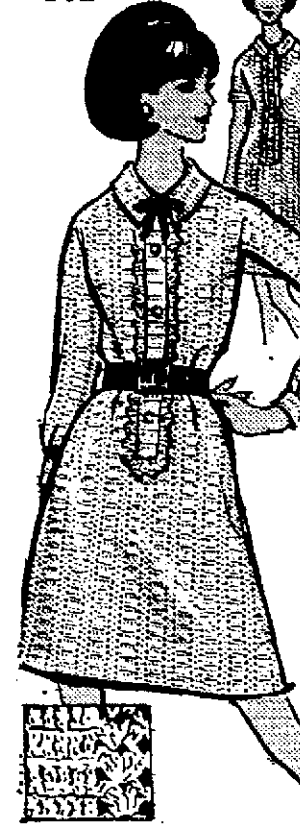

This Wednesday, October 23, the Youth Club meets again for studies, recreation, dinner and crafts from 3:45 to 7:15 p.m.

The harvest moon is the full moon nearest the autumnal equinox (Sept. 22 in 1968). Farmers long ago thought the full moon rose early at harvest time to give them extra light to gather crops.

Russell WCTU Has Theme On Preparation

The Russell WCTU met at the Faith Bible Church recently, and the business meeting opened with group singing and prayer by the president, Mrs. Hugh Atkins, and devotions from Exodus 3-1 to 15, on the theme of "Preparation". Mrs. Bessie Burford read the meditation from the Union Signal, and Margaret Granquist sang "Peace To My Soul".

The president read some items concerning the general aims of the WCTU. An interesting report of the Warren County WCTU Convention, held in Youngsville recently, was made by Phyllis Nesmith, the local delegate.

Mrs. Archie Phillips was welcomed as a new member.

The next meeting will be Nov. 19, when a luncheon will be served at the home of Mrs. Harold Granquist, Lander road, Russell.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN
(c 1968 by The Chicago Tribune)
ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
Q. 1—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠QJ107 ♦105 ♣AK ♠K1043
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♣ Pass 1 ♣ Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—One spade. The hand is not strong enough for a jump to two no trump. A bid of one spade is therefore suggested as a temporary measure. If partner passes, it is because he has a very weak hand.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠QJ10753 ♦K6 ♣K742 ♠Q
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass 1 ♣ 1 ♣ Pass
1 ♣ Pass 1 NT Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—Inasmuch as you have great playing strength, a bid of three spades is recommended. This is not forcing but strongly urges partner to continue.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AKQJ10742 ♦5 ♦72 ♠83
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
3 ♣ 4 ♣ Pass 5 ♣
Pass 6 ♣ Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—What is the purpose of North's six-club bid? He is stating, "Partner, I am forcing you automatically to bid a slam. My reason for telling you I have club control is that it may enable you to bid a grand slam." Since partner has no support for spades, he must have the other three aces to justify his request that we bid a grand slam and the proper call is seven spades.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠8 ♦AK10853 ♠AK10742
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♣ Pass 1 ♣ 3 ♣
4 ♣ 4 ♣ 4 ♣ Dble.

What do you bid now?
A.—Your partner must realize that you have great length in diamonds and clubs and are, therefore, apt to bid short in spades. His four spade bid, therefore, must have been based on a strong suit. East is obviously counting on some heart tricks and will be disappointed. The proper grand slam is redouble. A rescue to five of a minor suit would be a blatant insult to your partner.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠102 ♦95 ♦Q9 ♠KQJ9873
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
3 ♦ Dble. Pass

What is your response?
A.—Four clubs. On the surface this may appear inadequate, because four clubs is only a forced bid and could show considerably less in trick taking values. However, a bid of five clubs would be too drastic in view of your doubletons in all three suits.

Q. 6—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠A1084 ♦AJ83 ♦K ♠A1063
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
Pass 1 ♣ 1 ♣ 2 ♣
2 ♣ Dble. Pass 2 ♣

What do you bid now?
A.—Four spades. Partner's bid has shown that he has a lack of high cards. This became evident when he refused to stand for the double. However, his distribution must be very favorable and you ought to be able to hold your losers to three.

Q. 7—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠6 ♦AK1084 ♦1063 ♠AQ95
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♣ Pass 1 ♣ Pass
1 ♣ Pass 2 NT Pass
4 ♣ Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—Six hearts. Partner has opened the bidding, shown an other suit and then jumped in hearts. Since you have better than an opening bid, there is enough material for a slam, and you should up and bid it.

Q. 8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠75 ♦K98 ♦KQJ109 ♠KJ9
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♣ Pass 1 ♣ 1 ♣
Pass Pass 2 ♣ 2 ♣

What do you bid now?
A.—Three hearts. It is true that you opened a minimum hand, but two rounds of bidding have transformed it. Your splendid fit in partner's two suits makes it reasonable to suppose that you are safe for nine tricks.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.
FOR MONDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1968
ARIES (March 21 to April 20) — You may have to work hard to keep up to par this day and to present yourself at your best. But you CAN do it. Pick up loose ends, retouch, finish all projects started.
TAURUS (April 21 to May 21) — Place trusts thoughtfully; snap up a good bargain, but be sure it is not a "bargain" in name only. Promotion, advertising, entertainment interests especially favored.
GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) — A day that should please your active nature. Directed astutely, your talents and adaptability should lead to fine accomplishment, but don't be too anxious for immediate results.
CANCER (June 22 to July 23) — You may have to lend a hand where not anticipated; you are keen and adept at this, so enjoy it. You will be diplomatic, if your true self, just avoid arguments.
LEO (July 24 to August 23) — Care suggested in finances, home matters, handling others' affairs, pushing your own. Over-aggressiveness could undo good already accomplished.
VIRGO (August 24 to September 23) — Do not be afraid to ask for assistance or information. The more leads, the more know-how on which to act. You will face competition, but you CAN meet it.
LIBRA (September 24 to October 23) — Put your guard up against little disturbances that throw a good system out of gear. A few "fickish" moments should not stymie you but, rather, spur your ambition.
SCORPIO (October 24 to November 22) — Discuss the pros and cons of all situations, then get down to decisions and business-like action. This is no day for procrastination or doubling. Soft-pedal disputes.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21) — Note Scorpio: Keep yourself in trim and in tune, and you will face little that disturbs. Much depends on what you take for granted and what you initiate.
CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) — Let it not be said that you are lacking in adequacy or are not striving. Generous influences now proffer new routes and means for better-than-average gains.
AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) — This day calls for patience, fair play and understanding. You can give all this — and profit by it, in difficult matters, take sound precautions.
PISCES (February 20 to March 20) — A good day. While the practical is stressed, the purely artistic and creative will play a big role, too. Make the most of your highly imaginative ideas.
YOU BORN TODAY are versatile, active, deliberate, independent; are adapted to landscape gardening, legal work, literature, music. You have a tendency to "lash out" when displeased. Control this; also an insistence on doing things in your own way without consulting others concerned. You are full of energy most of the time, but can bog down and spend hours at a pastime that does nothing constructive to your future. You can complete plans others abandon; do an excellent job in a pinch and, if you do not misuse your fine talents, should enjoy a life of purposeful activity and happy friendships. You understand the misunderstood, but not always yourself. Many business executives, surgeons, technicians and musicians have been Libra-born.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

(c) 1968 by The Chicago Tribune
To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.
+ PROTECTING THE EYES
Eye hygiene begins early in life. A baby should not stare directly into the sun, because the outer eye membranes are delicate and burn readily. Every child should have an eye examination before starting school. If a defect is discovered, the future problem of poor grades or an emotional quirk may be avoided.
In the meantime, teach the child to protect the eyes from injury and infection. Rubbing the lids with dirty fingers is taboo. Sharp instruments, such as knives and scissors, should be kept out of the toddler's reach. Consider the age of the child when buying toys. Playthings with sharp points and edges are dangerous. Hard and fast rules must be established before the older child is given a slingshot or bow and arrow. Warn about the hazards associated with throwing stones or dueling with sticks.
+ Shatterproof lenses are safer for tykes who wear glasses. Safety goggles are a must for those who work in foundries or in shops where flying particles are likely to be encountered.
Water is one of the best antidotes for chemical burns. It must, however, be used immediately to be effective. The best plan is to fill a washbowl with water and submerge the head to include the eyes. Opening and closing the lids under water helps to wash away the caustic or acid material.
+ Another method is to have someone else hold the lids open while water or saline solution is poured over the eyeball. In chemical plants where there is danger of injuries of these kinds, saline usually is kept in a bottle suspended from the wall with a stoppered tube attached. Should a burn occur, the victim is seated beneath the bottle and the chemical is washed out immediately by squirting the solution into the eyes.

TOMORROW: Internal Bleeding.
+ Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.
+ HEARING AND DIET
A. B. writes: Someone told me about a woman who regained her hearing by going on a special diet. Growing deafness is jeopardizing my job, and I would like to know more about this diet.
REPLY
So would we. Impaired hearing is unrelated to diet, hence I am skeptical. The only exception is the rare person who is allergic to certain foods which create hives that block the eustachian tubes leading to the ears.
+ MINERALS AND BOILED WATER
A reader writes: After the recent storm, I started boiling the tap water and refrigerating it before drinking. The girls in the office say boiling takes out all the minerals. Are they correct?
REPLY
No. The steam that escapes during boiling is water; the solids (minerals) remain, except those in volatile compounds.
+ Today's Health Hint — Prevention is preferable to treatment.

Just sitting there, this '69 Chevrolet can do four things competitive cars can't:

It can wash its headlights. It can apply liquid tire chain to its rear wheels. It can silently defog or defrost the rear window. It can keep you cool or warm automatically with Comforton — the self-adjusting air-conditioning system. And once you've added all these wonderful devices to a new Chevrolet, you just can't imagine why anyone would give a second thought to a second-place car. The headlight washers and liquid tire chain for traction on slippery roads are operated at the touch of a button from the driver's seat. So is the silent new rear-window defroster. Invisible ceramic strips on the glass heat up to keep the window clear. Also available: Chevrolet's Light Monitoring System that lets you know from inside if all your outside lights are working, full four-speaker stereo, a smooth 3-speed Turbo Hydra-matic transmission. All in a car made quieter, made stronger, made more comfortable. Now at your Chevrolet dealer's. We've said it before, and we'll say it again. Match this, you other '69s! Putting you first, keeps us first.

Act Now—GET FIRST MONTH'S PROTECTION FOR THE ENTIRE FAMILY FOR ONLY $1
THEN YOU MAY CONTINUE AT WORLD MUTUAL'S REGULAR LOW RATES.

Money back in full if not 100% satisfied. Apply NOW by date shown in your Enrollment Form below.

ONE OUT OF TWO FAMILIES will have someone in the hospital this year! It could be you—or some beloved member of your family, tomorrow... next week... next month. Sad to say very few families have anywhere near enough coverage to meet today's soaring hospital costs. These costs have TRIPLED in just a few short years. They are expected to DOUBLE AGAIN in the few years ahead.

Stop for a moment. Think how much a long stay in the hospital will cost you or a loved one. How would you ever pay for costly but necessary X-rays, doctor bills, drugs and medicines? What would you do if your pay check stops, but living expenses go right on—rent, phone, food, all the day-to-day expenses that never stop? What is the average breadwinner to do?

Now you can receive $100.00 a week tax-free cash, from the very first day you enter the hospital for as long as you are confined there—even for 100 full weeks, if necessary!

This new plan relieves you of worry about the terrible financial threat of accident or illness. But you must apply during this limited enrollment period BEFORE the date shown in your enrollment form below.

THIS LIMITED ENROLLMENT OFFER ENDS SOON
Only $1 for first month for entire family—money-back guarantee.

To encourage you to see how much this Plan can mean to you and your family, we make this unusual, money-saving offer:

You can now have your first month's protection for your entire family for only one dollar! Then, continue at World Mutual's low rates. But, you must act immediately, because this unusual opportunity is offered for a limited time. Your request for this wonderful Income Protection Plan must be mailed on your convenient enrollment form below NOT LATER THAN MIDNIGHT, of the date in your Enrollment Form.

This midnight expiration hour cannot be extended. If your enrollment form is mailed later, it cannot be accepted.

These are the ONLY exclusions!

The new World Mutual Plan covers every conceivable kind of sickness and accident except, of course, hospitalization caused by mental or nervous disorders; act of war; pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage; expenses resulting from any sickness or injury you had before the policy Effective Date (during the first 2 years only); or where care is in a Government hospital. Everything else is covered.

How can I buy so much?

You can buy ordinary insurance at any time and pay the regular rates, if you wish. But World Mutual can now provide you with tax-free Income Protection for just $1 the first month for the entire family ONLY BECAUSE WE ENROLL A NUMBER OF PEOPLE AT ONE TIME—direct by mail! This highly efficient "mass enrollment" method cuts costs to the

IF YOU ARE 65 OR OVER YOU WILL COLLECT IN ADDITION TO MEDICARE

Why are smart folks over 65 now hastening to protect themselves with The World Mutual Plan in addition to what "Medicare" will do for them?

Even though Medicare is a great boon to folks over 65, it will not, of course, pay all the bills that quickly pile up as a result of illness or accident.

Regardless of your age, you will still need additional health protection.

We have designed this plan as the important addition to what you receive from Medicare—or any other health insurance you may have.

Remember, all checks will be sent directly to you, to give you that "extra" help just when you need it most—to help pay any bills you choose. Best of all, your World Mutual protection will pay even for 100 weeks, if necessary!

bone. We are able to issue thousands of policies in a few short weeks—rather than spread the procedure over many long months—or even a year. Our overhead and processing expenses are reduced drastically—and the savings are passed on to you!

After your first month's protection, you may continue at World Mutual's regular low monthly rates—and the rate you pay now will never be increased because you grow older!

What would happen to your family?

The chances are one in seven that you will spend some time in the hospital this year. A fall on the stairs, in the bathtub, or on the sidewalk—a sudden illness or operation—could lay you up for weeks, months, perhaps even years.

Right now, you probably have some hospital coverage. You may think you're "safe" from all the financial burdens of sickness and accident. But hospital coverage usually takes care of only part of your expenses.

Can you afford the soaring costs of doctor, surgical, and nursing bills? Can you afford missing your weekly paycheck during the time you're laid up in the hospital? Even though you probably have some protection now—will it be enough? Sickness, accidents, hospitalization, cost many people their savings, their cars, even their homes. Don't take chances with your financial security. Now for only pennies a day, YOU can enjoy the added protection, the peace of mind, the freedom from worry that this new World Mutual $100.00-A-Week Extra Income Health and Accident Plan WNL-1-667R offers.

The added protection you NEED!

All benefits of this World Mutual $100.00-A-Week Income Protection Plan are paid directly to you, in tax-free cash, in addition to whatever you may receive from your other insurance! Spend the money as you see fit—for hospital or doctors' bills, mortgage payments—or any necessary but costly extras not fully covered by usual hospital policies.

Everything costs more these days (need we tell you?) and hospital care is certainly no exception! While 7 out of 8 Americans have some hospital insurance, most have found it does not cover all the bills that pile up when sickness or accident strikes. That's why World Mutual developed low-cost Income Protection that helps you pay either hospital costs or anything else you need or want!

You get your $100.00 per week—TAX FREE—from your first day in the hospital, and as long as you are confined there, even for 100 weeks, if necessary.

For older folks—greater protection than you ever would have thought possible!

Right now, would advancing age prevent you from getting hospital insurance, or income protection with another company? Or if you could get a policy elsewhere, would you have to pay a big premium for it? Or perhaps you no longer have a regular income, and are living on Social Security. What would happen to you then if you had to suddenly go to a hospital?

Your "life saver" could be this wonderful World Mutual Income Protection Plan—because World Mutual welcomes folks of all ages into its Plan. You can even be OVER 100 and still be eligible!

Can you afford to miss this chance?

Now, at less than you may ever have thought would be possible, you can set up a "gold mine" of protection from desperate financial straits when the need arises. Thanks to this unique new Plan, you can have the solid, substantial protection you need—and not only save money, but assure yourself of other benefits, too, during all the years to come.

Our famous MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE.

We are so sure that we offer the best protection at the lowest cost, that we make our famous MONEY-BACK guarantee.

When you send for your policy, and it arrives in your hands, we want you to look it over as carefully and as often as you wish. See how thoroughly it protects you. See how exactly it meets the needs that you want covered. See how here, at last, is the policy that makes it possible for you to get the sickness and accident protection you need, in greater measures than ever before!

If you are not 100% satisfied that your policy is exactly what we have promised it to be, and exactly what YOU want it to be—send the policy back to us within 15 days and we will REFUND YOUR MONEY IN FULL, AT ONCE. But meanwhile you will be protected. And, if you decide to continue this wonderful protection, you may do so at the low rates shown below—a rate which will never be raised because you grow older!

World Mutual Plans are nationally known.

This money-saving World Mutual $100.00-A-Week Income Protection Plan truly offers outstanding value. Here's why: You can buy ordinary insurance from most companies at regular rates all year long. They are happy to issue one policy at a time. But World Mutual issues many new policies at one time during a limited enrollment period.

This "mass enrollment" method keeps our underwriting, processing and all other overhead expenses down to a bare minimum—and these savings are passed on to you!

Medical Costs Skyrocketing!

(Source: U.S. Dept. of Health, Education & Welfare)

Govt. figures reveal your present health protection... may no longer protect you against today's rising medical costs! Don't leave your loved ones defenseless! Act at once to add up to $10,000.00 to your health protection for only $1 for entire family.

THIS LIMITED ENROLLMENT OFFER ENDS SOON
Only $1 for first month for your entire family—unconditional money-back guarantee.

To introduce you to this new Plan, we make you this unusual offer: Act during this enrollment period and get your first month's protection for your Entire Family for only one dollar! Simply fill out your enrollment form here and mail it with just $1, before midnight of the date within the enrollment form. A full month's protection will go into effect on the same day we accept your enrollment form. Your policy will be sent to you right away BY MAIL.

When you get your policy, examine all its benefits and features. Have it checked, if you wish, by your lawyer, doctor, or other trusted adviser. If you are not 100% satisfied, return the policy within 15 days and your money will be refunded. If you decide to continue this worthwhile protection, you may do so at the low rates as follows for each member:

World Mutual Monthly Renewal Rates
Age at Enrollment	Monthly Premium
0-39	only $3.95
40-44	only $4.95
45-49	only $5.95
50-54	only $6.95
55-59	only $7.95
60-64	only $8.95
65-69	only $9.95
70 and over	only $10.95

NOTE: The regular Monthly Premium shown here (for your age at time of enrollment) is the same low premium you will continue to pay; it will not automatically increase as you pass from one age bracket to the next. Once you have enrolled in the World Mutual plan, your rate can never be changed because of how much or how often you collect from us—or because of advanced age—but only if there is a general rate adjustment, up or down, on all policies of this type in your entire state!

The reliable company behind your policy.

Your policy is guaranteed by the World Mutual Health and Accident Insurance Company of Pennsylvania. We have been helping families safeguard their security with sound insurance protection for more than 47 years. Our rating by Dunne's Insurance Reports, the world's largest policyholders' reporting service, is A+ (Excellent). This is the highest rating any insurance company can reach.

As for our financial position, Dunne's analysis shows that for each $100.00 of liabilities, World Mutual has assets of $134.54. This is higher than the 5-year average of the 15 largest insurance companies in the country, which have assets of $107.62 for each $100.00 of liabilities. In addition to this ample margin of financial safety, you can count on us to handle your claims fairly and promptly when you are hospitalized. World Mutual has paid claims in every state and in many foreign countries as well.

THESE 20 QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Tell you how World Mutual's $100.00-A-Week Income Protection Plan gives you the protection you need—at amazingly low cost!

- How much will this policy pay me when I go to the hospital?
$100.00 per week.
- When will my hospitalization benefits start?
The day you enter the hospital.
- Will I be paid if I am in the hospital for less than a full week?
Yes. This new plan pays whether you are in the hospital for only a day, or a week, a month, or a year!
- Does this policy have any "waiting periods" before I can use it?
No. It will go into force on the same day we accept your completed enrollment form and $1 premium for your entire family.
- How long will I continue to receive hospitalization benefits?
For every day you are in the hospital to a maximum of 100 weeks, as a result of any one accident or illness.
- Suppose I am paid benefits for any sickness or accident. What happens if I am again hospitalized for the same condition?
After you have resumed full normal activities for just 90 days, you are again eligible for benefits for a recurring condition, to a maximum of 100 weeks. And of course, any new condition would be covered immediately!
- How may I use these benefit payments?
You may use them in any way you wish—for hospital and doctor bills, rent, food, household expenses, or anything else. This is entirely up to you!
- Can I collect from World Mutual even if I carry other insurance?
Of course. This plan will pay you in addition to whatever you may receive from any other policies, including Medicare, for folks over 65.
- Why do I need this World Mutual Plan in addition to my other hospital and health insurance?
While hospital costs have tripled in recent years, very few people have tripled their insurance. The chances are one in seven that you will require hospital care this year—and you will need money to take care of all your other expenses, as well as your hospital bills. Your World Mutual checks are rushed to you by air mail to use as you see fit!
- May I apply if I am over 65?
Yes, you may. Folks any age are welcome to apply—there is no age limit!
- Will my protection be cancelled because I have too many claims?
No. World Mutual guarantees never to cancel your protection because you have too many claims or because of advanced age. We also guarantee never to refuse to renew your policy unless the premium is not paid before the end of the grace period, or unless renewal is declined on all policies of this type in your entire state. (Of course, if deception is used in making application, the policy may be ineffective.)
- Will benefits be reduced because of advanced age?
No. Regardless of how old you become or how many claims you have, your benefits remain the same.
- Will my rates be raised as I grow older or if I have too many claims?
No matter how many claims you have, or regardless of how long you keep your policy, your rate will remain the same as it was for your age when you applied. World Mutual guarantees never to adjust this rate unless the rates are adjusted, up or down, on all policies of this type in your entire state!
- What is not covered by this policy?
The only condition not covered are those caused by: mental or nervous disorders; pregnancy; childbirth or miscarriage; expenses resulting from any sickness or injury you had before the policy Effective Date (during the first 2 years only); act of war; or where care is in a Government hospital. Everything else is covered!
- What are the requirements to enroll in this World Mutual Plan?
You must not have been refused any health, hospital or life insurance, and, of course, during this enrollment period, you must apply before midnight of the date in the coupon.
- Why is this offer good for a limited time only?
Because by enrolling a large number of people at the same time, underwriting, processing and policy issuance costs can be kept at a minimum—and we can pass these savings on to you.
- Besides the savings, are there other advantages to joining World Mutual during this enrollment period?
Yes. A very important one is that you do not need to complete a regular application—just the brief enrollment form in the lower left hand corner of this page. Also, during this enrollment period there are no other requirements for eligibility—and no "waivers" or restrictive endorsements can be put on your policy!
- Can other members of my family take advantage of this special offer?
Yes, as long as they can meet the few requirements listed under Question 15.
- How does the money-back guarantee work?
Examine your policy carefully in the privacy of your own home. If for any reason you are not completely satisfied, return it within 15 days and we will promptly refund your money. Meanwhile you will be fully protected while making your decision!
- How do I join?
Fill out your brief enrollment form (be sure to sign your name) and mail it, with just $1 for the first month's protection for your entire family, to: World Mutual, 11401 Roosevelt Blvd., Philadelphia, Pa. 19154.
